WCH Firm Gets Contract for Bakery Building

New Pennington Plant To Cover 53,000 Square Feet

Work on the new Pennington commercial bakery, replacing the Clinton Ave. plant destroyed by a $500,000 fire June 9, will start Monday.

Morgan B. Pennington, president of Pennington Bread Inc., announced Thursday that a contract for the new building has been awarded to the A. L. Rhoads Construction Co., 1310 Washington Ave. No cost figure was announced.

The new streamlined plant, which will concentrate Pennington production operations in Washington C. H., will be erected on the company's westside property but will be substantially larger than the former building.

Of masonry construction, the new plant will provide 53,000 square feet of floor space as compared with 35,000 square feet in the old building. The company said earlier that its production in Washington C. H. will be approximately one-third greater than before the fire with a consequent increase in employment when the new plant is in operation — possibly within six months. Pre-fire employment was approximately 200.

THE PENNINGTON CORP. announced on July 27 that it would rebuild here after the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce raised $50,000 in financial assistance to the firm during a two-week campaign. The C. of C. made the offer to Pennington when it was learned that the corporation, for reasons of economy and easeir distribution, was considering transfer of its local operations to Columbus where a building had been leased.

The $50,000, now held in escrow accounts, will be turned over to the Pennington firm as soon as actual construction is under way.

Every effort will be made to have the new building under roof by mid-autumn, but much will depend on the availability of steel which is now in better supply following settlement of the mid-summer strike.

The brick-and-block structure will have the same 160-foot frontage as the fire-wrecked building, but it will have a depth of 344 feet. The former plant was 254 deep.

Negotiations Resuming in Phone Dispute

CINCINNATI (AP)—Another meeting of negotiators trying to settle the month-long strike of 600 employes of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. was to be held here this afternoon.

Federal Mediator Edward Phillips of Columbus met separately with representatives of the Federal Communications Workers of America and management Tuesday, then adjourned sessions until today.

The strike has affected telephone service in parts of 24 counties in southern and eastern Ohio, with six exchanges in Jefferson County being closed.

Negotiations have progressed slowly, and at the last report the talks concerned only working conditions. The question of wages is yet to come up, it was understood.

The negotiation sessions were transferred from Portsmouth so they could be held without interruption by other matters, Federal Mediator Phillips said.

A disturbance, one of several reported in recent weeks, occurred at St. Mary exchange early today, police said. A rock was thrown through a window at the home of the manager of the company and cables were cut, knocking out service to 13 subscribers, the police said.

A Sidestep on Civil Rights

Here Are Highlights Of Democrat Platform

CHICAGO (AP) — Here are highlights of the Democratic party's platform as adopted by its national convention early today:

CIVIL RIGHTS—Sidestepped endorsement of the controversial Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools, but pledged the party to advance individual rights and liberties of all Americans. It declared the party recognized decisions of the court to be a part of the law of the land, but declined to pledge itself, in so many words, to carry out those decisions.

FOREIGN POLICY — Charged that American ties with friendly nations have been weakened by Eisenhower administraion policies of what it called "bulster and bluff" without "dynamic action." It claimed also that these policies are increasing the risk of war in the Middle East.

The plank promised "bold" leadership to strengthen non-Communist countries against expansionist moves of Russia.

It called for supplying Israel with defensive weapons to offset what it called an arms imbalance in the Middle East caused by Communist munitions supplied to Egypt. And it declared support for the principle of free access to the Suez Canal under suitable international control of the waterway.

DOMESTIC POLICY — Charged that the Eisenhower administration is stunting economic progress and failing to provide prosperity for farmers, small business men, low income workers, old people on small pensions and inadequate savings, and young persons seeking an education. It asserted also that the administration is using public revenue to "benefit the few." It promised to "release the springs of abundance" to help all.

AGRICULTURE — Condemned Republican "failure" to halt decline in farm income, and promised Democratic program to restore "full 100 per cent parity" which it said agriculture received under Democratic administrations.

This program would replace Republican flexible price supports with 90 per cent price props on basic crops. It also would use government payments, purchase of surpluses, production controls and other measures to achieve the goal. And it would develop support measures for hogs, cattle, poultry and other perishable commodities not now under price guarantees.

Surpluses would be channeled to low-income groups at home through food stamp plan and to needy abroad through relief agencies.

LABOR—Pledged repeal of what it denounced as "the vicious anti-union "Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Act, and enactment of new legislation based on principles of labor laws enacted under President Franklin D. Roosevelt. It called for an increase of the minimum wage rate from the present $1 an hour to $1.25, and equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex.

FINANCIAL AND TAX POLICY —Favored an increase of $200 in the present $600-a-year personal income tax exemption. This would save low income taxpayers about $40 a year in taxes. It criticized Eisenhower administration increases in interest payments on government borrowings, contend-

GOP Thankful For Ammo From Truman

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — Washington Republicans are going to thank former President Truman for some unexpected campaign ammunition if Adlai Stevenson is renominated by the Democrats.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) summed up today the idea expressed by several recent White House callers and GOP legislators still in Washington when he said in an interview, "We should put Harry Truman on oru (party) payroll."

Others have said the Republicans expect to make the fullest use in the campaign of Truman's implication that Stevenson lacked experience and might require a "costly and dangerous trial and error" period to break him in if elected.

Truman made the statement last Saturday — without naming Stevenson specifically — in calling Gov. Averell Harriman of New York the best qualified man for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Truman also said last Tuesday that Stevenson could not win if nominated, but he modified this a bit at a news conference Wednesday by saying Stevenson "cannot win the election himself without a lot of help." He added Stevenson could win with the help of "the old man from Missouri"—Truman himself.

Potter, who is leaving Friday for the GOP convention in San Francisco, commented:

"Certainly if the man who considers himself the sage of the Democratic party is apprehensive about the ability of Stevenson, I think the American people should be apprehensive."

Armco President Resigns Position

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—W. W. Sebald, who rose from wagon driver to head one of the largest U.S. steel companies, announced last night he is resigning as president of Armco Steel Corp.

The announcement came at a golden anniversary dinner for Sebald.

R. L. Gray, executive vice president of Armco, will succeed Sebald as head of the steel firm.

The retiring president, who is 68, will become vice chairman of Armco's board of directors.

No Incidents Reported in Racial Fuss

COLUMBUS (AP)—Franklin County sheriff's deputies reported "no incidents" today at the West Side home of a Negro family, where persons shouting insults burned a kerosene-soaked cross Tuesday night.

Deputies were stationed near the home, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Lawson, to prevent any further threats or violence.

Telephone lines were cut and some rocks were hurled, terrifying Mrs. Lawson and her two children. Lawson, a Columbus postal clerk, was out of town when the incident occurred.

Officials said a preliminary probe indicated the violence was intended to force the Negro family to move from the area.

Lt. William A. Curry, of the sheriff's office, termed the action "unAmerican and subversive."

"Violence such as that might be expected in Russia, but not here. The Lawson home will be guarded if necessary to protect the family and the property," Curry said.

Deputies reported today that they turned over to the FBI an anonymous letter the Lawsons said they received two weeks ago. The letter warned the Lawsons to move from the all-white-area.

The FBI was expected to take up the matter with postal authorities, deputies said.

Lausche Given Formal Boost For Presidency

Favorite Son' Speech Delivered by DiSalle At Demo Convention

CHICAGO (AP) — Michael V. DiSalle, who wants to succeed Frank J. Lausche as governor, told the Democratic convention today that Ohio's "favorite son" can and will be elected president if nominated.

"He would prove to be our greatest vote getting asset and lead the Democratic party to victory in the nation as he has led the Democratic party to victory in Ohio," DiSalle said.

The speech offered the five-term governor's name to the convention which votes tonight on the nomination Lausche said he was unlikely to win.

LAUSCHE

DiSalle traced Lausche's political career from judge and mayor of Cleveland to the Statehouse in Columbus, where Lausche is the only Democrat holding elective administrative office. No other Ohioan has held more than three terms as governor.

"Sons of Ohio are automatically in the forefront of consideration when political parties gather to select their standard bearers," said former President Truman's price controller.

"BECAUSE OF his experience with public office, his record as a vote-getter, his knowledge of people and their problems," DiSalle added, "we are proud to present this living symbol of democracy in action."

Adlai E. Stevenson made a personal bid today for presidential nomination support from Ohio.

He addressed a caucus of the state's 58-vote delegation, most of which is pledged to Lausche.

Lausche was not present at the meeting of delegates, whose leaders said sentiment ran strongly for Stevenson's re-nomination.

Stevenson praised both Lausche, candidate for U. S. senator in Ohio's November election, and DiSalle, the nominee for governor.

"I will get no more satisfaction out of the November election," Stevenson said, "than to have Mike elected to the Senate. I mean Lausche to the Senate and Mike to the governorship," he hastened to add.

"You recall that you honored me before. I was your candidate for President in 1952. Thank you for what you did for me at that time. I am confident that this time we shall have a stronger team and shall win in November."

DiSalle told a press conference after last night's long convention session that it was up to Lausche to say whether he would release his delegates.

Some restless Lausche-pledged delegates threatened, ahead of a second caucus, to bolt on the first ballot to Adlai E. Stevenson for presidential renomination.

They expressed concern lest a possible first ballot nomination balk them from boarding the winning bandwagon.

Fifty-four of Ohio's 58 convention votes are pledged to Lausche. But at least two delegates said they would bolt to Stevenson on the first ballot. They predicted others would join them.

Four delegates have declared for Stevenson all the way.

Delegates favoring New York Gov. Averell Harriman, who addressed Ohio admirers yesterday at a luncheon, indicated most would swing to Stevenson for their second choice. Leaders of the movement, who claimed 40 Ohio

Stevenson Assured Of Dem Nomination

Truman Seen Doing Adlai A Big Favor

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry S. Truman may have done Adlai Stevenson a favor by trying to keep him from getting the Democratic presidential nomination.

It figures this way: Four years ago Truman stumped the land for Stevenson. Stevenson lost. There are those, and Stevenson may well be one of them, who hold the view that the Democratic ticket would have run better if Truman had kept quiet.

In the opinion of most Stevenson advisers, Truman for all his good intentions didn't do the 1952 nominee any good when he stamped his endorsement on Adlai.

The candidate then became in the eyes of many, and of Republican orators in particular, the Truman candidate. And so Stevenson remained in the view of many despite repeated efforts to declare independence.

This year, Stevenson has no such problem—thanks to Harry Truman's opposing him.

Stevenson now can go before the voters as his own man, or at least not as Truman's man, something Averell Harriman couldn't have done if Truman's fight to get Harriman nominated had been successful.

Another boost Truman may have given Stevenson: calling him a "moderate."

The "moderation" label could help Stevenson with voters who thought he was far over on the liberal side four years ago.

Fire Chief's Face Red as His Engine

EAST LIVERPOOL (AP)—The face of Fire Chief Charles Bryan is as red today as the paint job on his fire trucks.

He pulled a false alarm.

Bryan and fireman Gale McFarland yesterday were making the rounds of alarm boxes. In the downtown district, he opened a call box with a bottle opener but it failed to hold a mechanical spring and off went the alarm and the fire truck sped to the scene.

The fire chief had been pasting these decals on the boxes:

"Think. A false alarm may cost a life."

HEADING FOR FIRST-BALLOT VICTORY? — Front-running Adlai Stevenson, bolstered by increasing delegate support, strides happily through a Chicago hotel lobby with his son, John Fell, and another admirer, Paulette Libitz, who, although too young to vote, said she wanted Stevenson for president.

Democrats Promise Farmer Higher Price Guarantees

CHICAGO (AP)—Democrats will pitch their fight for the farm vote this fall on a promise to discard the Eisenhower Administration's flexible price support system and restore higher price guarantees on major crops.

In a farm plank adopted early today, the party promised to support basic commodities (corn, wheat, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco) at 90 per cent of parity.

Supports for these products now range between 75 and 90 per cent of parity under the GOP flexible support program. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declard by law to be fair to farmers in relations to prices they must pay.

The plank promised to use other measures (subsidy payments, government purchases, crop controls and other devices) in an effort to push the farm price level to full parity.

It further pledged the party to develop "practical" measures for extending price supports to such other crops as hogs, cattle, poultry and perishable commodities.

Under the Eisenhower administration program, there are no direct supports for meat animals and poultry. Dairy products are the only perishables protected.

The platform condemned what it called the "defeatist attitude" of the administration in "refusing to take effective action to assure the well-being of farm families" and, it said, for failing to reverse what it termed "the alarming fall of farm prices."

The platform also promised to set up a food stamp plan to channel surplus commodities to the needy, to expand the school lunch program, to provide easier farm credit, to promote international pacts aimed at stabilizing world farm prices, and to maintain strategic reserves of foods. It also calls for an increase in gifts of surplused to the needy abroad.

But the party's platform drafters turned back a drive by supporters of Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and the National Farmers Union to pledge the Democrats to legislation which would permit a program along the lines of one proposed by Charles Brannan when he was secretary of agriculture in the Truman administration. Congress rejected that program.

Ike's Regime Is Labeled as U. S. 'Circus'

CHICAGO (AP)—For Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, the circus isn't dead; it's in Washington under the billing: Eisenhower administration.

Kerr used heavy ridicule in his speech to the Democratic National Convention last night when he lambasted the Republicans.

Of President Eisenhower's heart attack and operation, Kerr said:

"I don't aim to discuss the health issue because neither I nor any other man can tell whether Eisenhower could survive another four years of office.

"But the millions of American farmers know they could not survive another four years of Eisenhower."

Under Eisenhower, Kerr said, the families of farmers and workers have had "a terrible rendezvous with deception." He said Republicans are conducting "a billion-dollar circus" which he said lines up like this:

Secretary of State Dulles — "Daredevil . . . escape artist with his breathtaking, death-defying brink-of-war act."

President press secretary Hagerty—"Medicine puppet show."

Former Secretary of the Interior McKay—"The giveaway king . . . free samples of our national timberlands and rivers."

Presidential aide Harold E. Stassen—"The dying young man on the flying trapeze."

Vice President Nixon — "Moby Dick Nixon, the White House pet midget."

690 Votes Lined Up for Ballot Tonight

Adlai Needs only 686½ Kefauver Leading List Of Prospects for Veep

CHICAGO (AP) — The Associated Press count of indicated first ballot votes for Adlai Stevenson rose today to 690 or 3½ more than the 686½ needed for a quick knockout in the fight for the Democratic presidential nomination.

CHICAGO (AP)—Delegates to the Democratic National Convention were hearing numerous nomination speeches this afternoon, but only one seemed to be important—that given for Adlai E. Stevenson.

The 1952 party standard-bearer again had the assignment all sewed up even before young Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts put up the Stevenson name.

Early this afternoon, an Associated Press tabulatoin showed that there were 690 votes pledged to the former governor of Illinois. He will need only 686½ tonight to win the official nod. By balloting time, the Stevenson bandwagon should be bogged down with late boarders.

Decisions in morning meetings of delegations quickly shot him above the winning total.

Six additional votes from North Carolina put him over the top. Kansas had just thrown in 16. Together, the two states gave Stevenson 690—3½ more than needed for the nomination.

But most of the other one-time hopefuls for the nomination were all of a mind to be presented to the convention. In some instances, there was the thought of a buildup for the future. And the opportunity to be praised simultaneously on most of the country's radio and TV stations doesn't come along often.

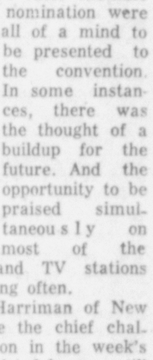

STEVENSON

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who made the chief challenge to Stevenson in the week's maneuvering, insisted he was still in serious contention. He fired a telegram to all chairmen of state delegations telling them:

"I have just talked with President Truman. We are determined to fight through to the nomination tonight regardless of any rumors to the contrary you have heard or may yet hear."

The practical certainty of Stevenson's nomination was such that speculation over his possible vice presidential running mate became acute.

In the absence of any word from Stevenson, the race appeared to be narrowing into a three-way contest between Senator Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore of Tennessee and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

KEFAUVER

None of these three took any public part in a carefully staged drama in which the party's conflicting Northern and Southern delegations met at the civil rights crossroads and decided to march into the general election campaign under one banner.

Urging that action was former President Truman, a Harriman backer who has contended Stevenson isn't a fighting candidate.

When Truman had finished talking, Rayburn took over with his big gavel.

He put the question of adoption of the Northerners' minority report. There was a roar of "noes" followed by shouts of "aye."

"In the opinion of the chair—," Rayburn began. There was a chorus of "no, no, no."

"Now, just a moment," Rayburn said sternly. "I have taken

Suez Canal Conference Under Way in London

LONDON (AP) — The Western Big Three proposed today that the operation of the Suez Canal be made the responsibility of an international board, including Egypt linked to the United Nations.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, on behalf of the United States, France and Britain, presented a four-point plan for solving the international crisis blown up by Egyptian President Nasser's nationalization of the waterway.

Dulles told the 22-nation Suez conference the board proposed by the West would be established by treaty and would provide for operation of the canal in accordance with the 1888 Constantinople convention.

The plan would insure that the board could not be dominated by any single power or group of powers and would open the canal to all powers.

Dulles insisted the conference should seek to ascertain Egypt's views on any final position it might adopt.

A SOURCE CLOSE to the conference said Dulles put forward these other points:

1. The new arrangement must recognize Egypt's right to an equitable return, presumably from any profits from use of the canal.

2. Fair compensation should be paid to the stockholders of the nationalized Suez Canal Co.

3. Arbitration machinery should be agreed upon to settle any disputes that might arise out of these principles.

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov made a bid to broaden the conference to include 24 other nations, but agreed to waive procedural objections and expressed willingness to help in a peaceful solution to the dispute.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who boycotted the conference, kept an eye on the proceedings by sending some of his foreign affairs experts to London as sideline observers.

The Western Big Three called the meeting in London to challenge Nasser's sole control over the canal and place it under international guidance.

A British spokesman said Shepilov told the 22-nation gathering all countries using the waterway should have been called into the London conference, aimed by the West to establish some international supervision over the operation of the canal Egypt has nationalized.

The speech offered the five-term governor's name to the convention which votes tonight on the nomination. Lausche said he was unlikely to win.

LAUSCHE

DiSalle traced Lausche's political career from judge and mayor of Cleveland to the Statehouse in Columbus, where Lausche is the only Democrat holding elective administrative office. No other Ohioan has held more than three terms as governor.

"Sons of Ohio are automatically in the forefront of consideration when political parties gather to select their standard bearers," said former President Truman's price controller.

"BECAUSE OF his experience with public office, his record as a vote-getter, his knowledge of people and their problems," DiSalle added, "we are proud to present this living symbol of democracy in action."

Adlai E. Stevenson made a personal bid today for presidential nomination support from Ohio.

He addressed a caucus of the state's 58-vote delegation, most of which is pledged to Lausche.

Lausche was not present at the meeting of delegates, whose leaders said sentiment ran strongly for Stevenson's re-nomination.

Stevenson praised both Lausche, candidate for U. S. senator in Ohio's November election, and DiSalle, the nominee for governor.

"I will get no more satisfaction out of the November election," Stevenson said, "than to have Mike elected to the Senate. I mean Lausche to the Senate and Mike to the governorship," he hastened to add.

"You recall that you honored me before. I was your candidate for President in 1952. Thank you for what you did for me at that time. I am confident that this time we shall have a stronger team and shall win in November."

DiSalle told a press conference after last night's long convention session that it was up to Lausche to say whether he would release his delegates.

Some restless Lausche-pledged delegates threatened, ahead of a second caucus, to bolt on the first ballot to Adlai E. Stevenson for presidential renomination.

They expressed concern lest a possible first ballot nomination balk them from boarding the winning bandwagon.

Fifty-four of Ohio's 58 convention votes are pledged to Lausche. But at least two delegates said they would bolt to Stevenson on the first ballot. They predicted others would join them.

Four delegates have declared for Stevenson all the way.

Delegates favoring New York Gov. Averell Harriman, who addressed Ohio admirers yesterday at a luncheon, indicated most would swing to Stevenson for their second choice. Leaders of the movement, who claimed 40 Ohio

Stevenson Assured Of Dem Nomination

Truman Seen Doing Adlai A Big Favor

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry S. Truman may have done Adlai Stevenson a favor by trying to keep him from getting the Democratic presidential nomination.

It figures this way: Four years ago Truman stumped the land for Stevenson. Stevenson lost. There are those, and Stevenson may well be one of them, who hold the view that the Democratic ticket would have run better if Truman had kept quiet.

In the opinion of most Stevenson advisers, Truman for all his good intentions didn't do the 1952 nominee any good when he stamped his endorsement on Adlai.

The candidate then became in the eyes of many, and of Republican orators in particular, the Truman candidate. And so Stevenson remained in the view of many despite repeated efforts to declare independence.

This year, Stevenson has no such problem—thanks to Harry Truman's opposing him.

Stevenson now can go before the voters as his own man, or at least not as Truman's man, something Averell Harriman couldn't have done if Truman's fight to get Harriman nominated had been successful.

Another boost Truman may have given Stevenson: calling him a "moderate."

The "moderation" label could help Stevenson with voters who thought he was far over on the liberal side four years ago.

Fire Chief's Face Red as His Engine

EAST LIVERPOOL (AP)—The face of Fire Chief Charles Bryan is as red today as the paint job on his fire trucks.

He pulled a false alarm.

Bryan and fireman Gale McFarland yesterday were making the rounds of alarm boxes. In the downtown district, he opened a call box with a bottle opener but it failed to hold a mechanical spring and off went the alarm and the fire truck sped to the scene.

The fire chief had been pasting these decals on the boxes:

"Think. A false alarm may cost a life."

HEADING FOR FIRST-BALLOT VICTORY? — Front-running Adlai Stevenson, bolstered by increasing delegate support, strides happily through a Chicago hotel lobby with his son, John Fell, and another admirer, Paulette Libitz, who, although too young to vote, said she wanted Stevenson for president.

Democrats Promise Farmer Higher Price Guarantees

CHICAGO (AP)—Democrats will pitch their fight for the farm vote this fall on a promise to discard the Eisenhower Administration's flexible price support system and restore higher price guarantees on major crops.

In a farm plank adopted early today, the party promised to support basic commodities (corn, wheat, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco) at 90 per cent of parity.

Supports for these products now range between 75 and 90 per cent of parity under the GOP flexible support program. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declard by law to be fair to farmers in relations to prices they must pay.

The plank promised to use other measures (subsidy payments, government purchases, crop controls and other devices) in an effort to push the farm price level to full parity.

It further pledged the party to develop "practical" measures for extending price supports to such other crops as hogs, cattle, poultry and perishable commodities.

Under the Eisenhower administration program, there are no direct supports for meat animals and poultry. Dairy products are the only perishables protected.

The platform condemned what it called the "defeatist attitude" of the administration in "refusing to take effective action to assure the well-being of farm families" and, it said, for failing to reverse what it termed "the alarming fall of farm prices."

The platform also promised to set up a food stamp plan to channel surplus commodities to the needy, to expand the school lunch program, to provide easier farm credit, to promote international pacts aimed at stabilizing world farm prices, and to maintain strategic reserves of foods. It also calls for an increase in gifts of surplused to the needy abroad.

But the party's platform drafters turned back a drive by supporters of Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and the National Farmers Union to pledge the Democrats to legislation which would permit a program along the lines of one proposed by Charles Brannan when he was secretary of agriculture in the Truman administration. Congress rejected that program.

Ike's Regime Is Labeled as U. S. 'Circus'

CHICAGO (AP)—For Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, the circus isn't dead; it's in Washington under the billing: Eisenhower administration.

Kerr used heavy ridicule in his speech to the Democratic National Convention last night when he lambasted the Republicans.

Of President Eisenhower's heart attack and operation, Kerr said:

"I don't aim to discuss the health issue because neither I nor any other man can tell whether Eisenhower could survive another four years of office.

"But the millions of American farmers know they could not survive another four years of Eisenhower."

Under Eisenhower, Kerr said, the families of farmers and workers have had "a terrible rendezvous with deception." He said Republicans are conducting "a billion-dollar circus" which he said lines up like this:

Secretary of State Dulles — "Daredevil . . . escape artist with his breathtaking, death-defying brink-of-war act."

President press secretary Hagerty—"Medicine puppet show."

Former Secretary of the Interior McKay—"The giveaway king . . . free samples of our national timberlands and rivers."

Presidential aide Harold E. Stassen—"The dying young man on the flying trapeze."

Vice President Nixon — "Moby Dick Nixon, the White House pet midget."

690 Votes Lined Up for Ballot Tonight

Adlai Needs only 686½ Kefauver Leading List Of Prospects for Veep

CHICAGO (AP) — The Associated Press count of indicated first ballot votes for Adlai Stevenson rose today to 690 or 3½ more than the 686½ needed for a quick knockout in the fight for the Democratic presidential nomination.

CHICAGO (AP)—Delegates to the Democratic National Convention were hearing numerous nomination speeches this afternoon, but only one seemed to be important—that given for Adlai E. Stevenson.

The 1952 party standard-bearer again had the assignment all sewed up even before young Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts put up the Stevenson name.

Early this afternoon, an Associated Press tabulatoin showed that there were 690 votes pledged to the former governor of Illinois. He will need only 686½ tonight to win the official nod. By balloting time, the Stevenson bandwagon should be bogged down with late boarders.

Decisions in morning meetings of delegations quickly shot him above the winning total.

Six additional votes from North Carolina put him over the top. Kansas had just thrown in 16. Together, the two states gave Stevenson 690—3½ more than needed for the nomination.

But most of the other one-time hopefuls for the nomination were all of a mind to be presented to the convention. In some instances, there was the thought of a buildup for the future. And the opportunity to be praised simultaneously on most of the country's radio and TV stations doesn't come along often.

STEVENSON

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, who made the chief challenge to Stevenson in the week's maneuvering, insisted he was still in serious contention. He fired a telegram to all chairmen of state delegations telling them:

"I have just talked with President Truman. We are determined to fight through to the nomination tonight regardless of any rumors to the contrary you have heard or may yet hear."

The practical certainty of Stevenson's nomination was such that speculation over his possible vice presidential running mate became acute.

In the absence of any word from Stevenson, the race appeared to be narrowing into a three-way contest between Senator Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore of Tennessee and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

KEFAUVER

None of these three took any public part in a carefully staged drama in which the party's conflicting Northern and Southern delegations met at the civil rights crossroads and decided to march into the general election campaign under one banner.

Urging that action was former President Truman, a Harriman backer who has contended Stevenson isn't a fighting candidate.

When Truman had finished talking, Rayburn took over with his big gavel.

He put the question of adoption of the Northerners' minority report. There was a roar of "noes" followed by shouts of "aye."

"In the opinion of the chair—," Rayburn began. There was a chorus of "no, no, no."

"Now, just a moment," Rayburn said sternly. "I have taken

Suez Canal Conference Under Way in London

LONDON (AP) — The Western Big Three proposed today that the operation of the Suez Canal be made the responsibility of an international board, including Egypt linked to the United Nations.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, on behalf of the United States, France and Britain, presented a four-point plan for solving the international crisis blown up by Egyptian President Nasser's nationalization of the waterway.

Dulles told the 22-nation Suez conference the board proposed by the West would be established by treaty and would provide for operation of the canal in accordance with the 1888 Constantinople convention.

The plan would insure that the board could not be dominated by any single power or group of powers and would open the canal to all powers.

Dulles insisted the conference should seek to ascertain Egypt's views on any final position it might adopt.

A SOURCE CLOSE to the conference said Dulles put forward these other points:

1. The new arrangement must recognize Egypt's right to an equitable return, presumably from any profits from use of the canal.

2. Fair compensation should be paid to the stockholders of the nationalized Suez Canal Co.

3. Arbitration machinery should be agreed upon to settle any disputes that might arise out of these principles.

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov made a bid to broaden the conference to include 24 other nations, but agreed to waive procedural objections and expressed willingness to help in a peaceful solution to the dispute.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, who boycotted the conference, kept an eye on the proceedings by sending some of his foreign affairs experts to London as sideline observers.

The Western Big Three called the meeting in London to challenge Nasser's sole control over the canal and place it under international guidance.

A British spokesman said Shepilov told the 22-nation gathering all countries using the waterway should have been called into the London conference, aimed by the West to establish some international supervision over the operation of the canal Egypt has nationalized.

Police Baffled In Hunt for Girl's Attacker

While police are investigating the alleged attempted rape of a 16 year-old girl on Oakland Ave. at the Paint Creek bridge about 8:30 p. m. Tuesday, their work has been hampered by inability to contact the girl or members of her family.

Police Chief Vaiden Long said that the police had made several trips to the girl's home in the northeastern part of the city, Wednesday and Thursday, but up to the noon hour Thursday had been unable to find anyone there.

Plans call for further questioning of the girl regarding the alleged assault, and police admitted they were becoming impatient over inability to find the family.

ON THE ALERT for a man with a "horrible face", as the girl described her assailant, police late Wednesday arrested a transient whom officers thought could qualify in some respects. The man was drunk when arrested and later in the city jail gouged one arm with a spoon handle he had broken. It was necessary to remove all articles from the jail so the man, held for drunkenness and vagrancy, would not further injure himself.

Police were called into the case about 9:40 p. m. Tuesday after the girl had gone home, told her story of an attempted assault, and said sh. had fainted when she saw the "horrible face" of the man who grabbed her as she was en route to the swimming pool.

the 'ayes' and 'noes' many times and I think I can tell who has the most.

"In the opinion of the chair, the "noes" have it and the minority report is rejected." Then he gaveled through the report of the McCormack committee.

This cleared the last foreseen obstacle to Stevenson's nomination and left the field open for vice presidential aspirants to jockey for his favor.

James Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, said the decision had been made as between possible candidates. From another source it was reported, however, that Finnegan was arguing against selection of a Roman Catholic. Finnegan, a Roman Catholic himself, was represented as believing the religious issue ought not to be raised.

That would eliminate Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York City.

Roger Tubby, Stevenson's press secretary, said no word will be forthcoming from Stevenson about his choice until after he is formally nominated.

But Tubby listed half a dozen as under consideration. They included Kefauver, Humphrey, Kennedy, Gore, Wagner and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Stevenson has indicated he is toying with the idea of letting the convention pick his running mate from a selected list of men he regards as acceptable. The thought would be that with the top nomination apparently sewed up before balloting began, the delegates might like to see a real contest for second place.

At the moment, Kefauver appeared likely to have the strongest backing in any such contest.

EXPRESSING a dim view of luncheons, Lausche told the Ohio delegates:

"In my attendance here at this convention and in the Senate, I will forego all the amenities on giving luncheons if to do so means that my hands will be kept free in the performance of my duty."

Lausche later warned against what he termed bandwagonism. But several delegates said they wondered whether Ohio was headed for a dilemma of the 1932 type.

In the national convention that year, Ohio delegates were pledged to Gov. George White as "favorite son." They split between Al Smith of New York and Franklin D. Roosevelt, who won nomination before Ohioans could decide which to support.

Party leaders who recalled the event said Ohio's federal patronage cupboard was barren for several years thereafter.

ing this policy benefits the few at expense of taxpayers in general. It promised to reduce the rates.

GENERAL WELFARE — Pledged the party to expand and improve Social Security and other social welfare programs which it claimed the Democrats fathered. It charged that the GOP has opposed proposals to strengthen these programs. Besides greater aid for medical education and research, the plank promised expanded public housing programs, and financial aid to schools.

NATURAL RESOURCES—Claimed GOP administration has not safeguarded natural resources, and pledged doubling of government efforts to develop and conserve hydroelectric power projects, forests, grazing land, mineral resources, and recreational, wildlife and fishery resources.

ATOMIC ENERGY—Claimed U. S. is lagging in nuclear energy field because of alleged failure of Republicans to use power of the government to speed development.

FREE ENTERPRISE—Charged that the present administration has allowed big business to dominate the economy to the detriment of small enterprises. It pledged aid to the latter in form of more credit, tax relief and more government contracts.

GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS —Promised extension of the civil service merit system, increased efficiency in the postal service—which the platform said the Republicans had crippled — and greater dissemination of information of government operations.

On other matters, it pledged renewed interest in veterans affairs; expressed favor for immediate home rule and ultimate national representation for the District of Columbia; and urged action to improve congressional procedures so that "majority rule" might prevail.

Strong Civil Rights Plank To Be Nailed Down by GOP

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Republicans expect to work out in closed session tonight their first rough draft of their 1956 platform.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois said it will have a strong civil rights statement. It may urge the arming of Israel to help preserve Middle East peace.

Other developments towards Monday's opening of the national convention in the Cow Palace:

Party stalwarts reiterated at every opportunity that Vice President Nixon would be renominated.

But Governors Theodore McKeldin of Maryland and Goodwin Knight of California reiterated equally frequently "I'm available." And headquarters for Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts was opened next door to the downtown office of Citizens for Eisenhower. The latter group supports Nixon.

But in Boston today, Herter said that if he is nominated for the vice presidency, he will ask U.S. Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass), permanent convention chairman, to withdraw his name.

In Washington, aides to Nixon said today he has received "more than 5,000" letters and telegrams opposing Harold E. Stassen's ditch Nixon drive.

Exactly 30 messages have been received saying that Stassen is right, they declared.

The communications ranged in tone from "to hell to Stassen" to a Kentuckian's advice to Nixon to "please take the hint that you are unpopular—retire."

Staff members said the letters started arriving in large quantities after Stassen launched his campaign to replace Nixon with Herter. They said the volume has dwindled this week.

The platform draft will be hammered out by the Resolutions Committee headed by Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut.

The draft will go Saturday to the full national committee, which will reword it on Sunday for expected adoption by the Republican National Convention Tuesday.

Bush said the platform framers are mindful of President Eisenhower's request that it be kept short and free "of denunciation and bombast."

Dirksen, of the Civil Rights subcommittee, scoffed at the civil rights plank the Democrats adopted in Chicago and said, "There will be no such serpentine weaseling on our part. The Supreme Court has interpreted the Constitution and that's the law of the land."

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hamulak, 1028 Center St., are announcing the birth of a daughter weighing 6 pounds, 10 ounces at 10 a. m. Wednesday in Memorial Hospital.

votes for Harriman at one time, made their plans known after aides of the New York governor described his cause as hopeless.

EXPRESSING a dim view of luncheons, Lausche told the Ohio delegates:

"In my attendance here at this convention and in the Senate, I will forego all the amenities on giving luncheons if to do so means that my hands will be kept free in the performance of my duty."

Lausche later warned against what he termed bandwagonism. But several delegates said they wondered whether Ohio was headed for a dilemma of the 1932 type.

In the national convention that year, Ohio delegates were pledged to Gov. George White as "favorite son." They split between Al Smith of New York and Franklin D. Roosevelt, who won nomination before Ohioans could decide which to support.

Party leaders who recalled the event said Ohio's federal patronage cupboard was barren for several years thereafter.

Democrat Platform

ing this policy benefits the few at expense of taxpayers in general. It promised to reduce the rates.

GENERAL WELFARE — Pledged the party to expand and improve Social Security and other social welfare programs which it claimed the Democrats fathered. It charged that the GOP has opposed proposals to strengthen these programs. Besides greater aid for medical education and research, the plank promised expanded public housing programs, and financial aid to schools.

NATURAL RESOURCES—Claimed GOP administration has not safeguarded natural resources, and pledged doubling of government efforts to develop and conserve hydroelectric power projects, forests, grazing land, mineral resources, and recreational, wildlife and fishery resources.

ATOMIC ENERGY—Claimed U. S. is lagging in nuclear energy field because of alleged failure of Republicans to use power of the government to speed development.

FREE ENTERPRISE—Charged that the present administration has allowed big business to dominate the economy to the detriment of small enterprises. It pledged aid to the latter in form of more credit, tax relief and more government contracts.

GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS —Promised extension of the civil service merit system, increased efficiency in the postal service—which the platform said the Republicans had crippled — and greater dissemination of information of government operations.

On other matters, it pledged renewed interest in veterans affairs; expressed favor for immediate home rule and ultimate national representation for the District of Columbia; and urged action to improve congressional procedures so that "majority rule" might prevail.

Strong Civil Rights Plank To Be Nailed Down by GOP

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Republicans expect to work out in closed session tonight their first rough draft of their 1956 platform.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois said it will have a strong civil rights statement. It may urge the arming of Israel to help preserve Middle East peace.

Other developments towards Monday's opening of the national convention in the Cow Palace:

Party stalwarts reiterated at every opportunity that Vice President Nixon would be renominated.

But Governors Theodore McKeldin of Maryland and Goodwin Knight of California reiterated equally frequently "I'm available." And headquarters for Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts was opened next door to the downtown office of Citizens for Eisenhower. The latter group supports Nixon.

But in Boston today, Herter said that if he is nominated for the vice presidency, he will ask U.S. Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass), permanent convention chairman, to withdraw his name.

In Washington, aides to Nixon said today he has received "more than 5,000" letters and telegrams opposing Harold E. Stassen's ditch Nixon drive.

Exactly 30 messages have been received saying that Stassen is right, they declared.

The communications ranged in tone from "to hell to Stassen" to a Kentuckian's advice to Nixon to "please take the hint that you are unpopular—retire."

Staff members said the letters started arriving in large quantities after Stassen launched his campaign to replace Nixon with Herter. They said the volume has dwindled this week.

The platform draft will be hammered out by the Resolutions Committee headed by Sen. Prescott Bush of Connecticut.

The draft will go Saturday to the full national committee, which will reword it on Sunday for expected adoption by the Republican National Convention Tuesday.

Bush said the platform framers are mindful of President Eisenhower's request that it be kept short and free "of denunciation and bombast."

Dirksen, of the Civil Rights subcommittee, scoffed at the civil rights plank the Democrats adopted in Chicago and said, "There will be no such serpentine weaseling on our part. The Supreme Court has interpreted the Constitution and that's the law of the land."

Egypt Seeks Gain at Expense of World Peace

There are some bad angles to settlement of the Suez Canal questions which could be a cause for trouble unless some exceptional diplomacy brings about a peaceful settlement.

In some of the demands which Egypt is reported to have made to the British and French in a counter proposal to suggestions for settlement, the cunning hand of the Soviets is declared to be shown.

If Egypt has, as reported, indicated an unwillingness to dicker over the Suez problem unless the Panama Canal and the Dardanelles are internationalized to the same degree, it would appear that a distinct effort is being made to involve the United States, in an awkward way.

There is just enough confusing and unfair logic in this proposition to mislead some other nations into believing the suggestion is a good one without their taking into consideration the background history of the Panama Canal and the Dardanelles.

It is being pointed out by competent students of the situation that Egypt is making demands without reference to soundness in her position. She is being persuaded to adopt a course to bring about international trouble and out of such wreckage possibly make gains.

As far as the Suez Canal is concerned, if left to Egypt there never would have been any such Canal.

Also, the Canal becomes Egypt's by treaty in another decade anyway. By terms of a more recent treaty, already broken by her, Egypt recognized the international status of the Canal when the British agreed to remove their troops from the isthmus.

On the other hand the Panama Canal is on territory bought and paid for. It operates under a contract with the Republic of Panama, the terms of which are scrupulously kept. Shipping is not discriminated against for political purposes as Premier Nasser might plan at Suez.

Mention of the Dardanelles shows Russia's hand. She has wanted to control it for centuries. It is not a canal, and the United States could as well demand internationalization of the Bering Straits, or France of the English Channel.

More and more Egyptian Premier Nasser resembles the late Benito Mussolini. The Russians will use him all they can. Peace loving nations believe Suez must be kept open and Egypt must be required to act in a responsible manner.

This Is 'S-Day' for Many

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—This is "S" Day. The "S" stands for sneeze for five million Americans.

It is the opening of the annual hay fever season, when man's best friend is no longer his dog but his pocket handkerchief or the nearest air conditioning machine.

For the next month the land will resound with the wheezing and sneezing of more than five million U. S. victims of this peculiar allergy, which seems to be as old and as mysterious of origin as man himself.

Beware the watery eyed sufferer for the next 31 days. Avoid the mischievous temptation to tell him that hay fever, like seasickness, is all in the mind, or that "it's no worse than an ordinary cold."

Hay fever is no joke to the man who has it. Nor is it any joke to industry. The U. S. Public Health Service estimates hay fever costs 24,750,000 lost work days each summer.

Dr. Rudolph L. Mayer, discoverer of pyribenzime, an antihistamine used in its treatment, lists allergies (hay fever is a leading form) among the first three chronic diseases in America, exceeded in number of cases only by heart ailments and mental illness.

"Actually, the first hay fever symptoms were described by physicians in Greece five centuries before the time of Christ," said Dr. Mayer.

These ancient doctors prescribed remedies of arsenic and belladonna to ease the discomfort, and arsenic is still used in some patent medicines today in the form of Fowler's solution.

Hay fever is peculiarly prevalent in America, oddly enough, because of our prosperity. It is caused by airborne giant ragweed pollen. In Europe and Asia, where almost every scrap of land is carefully tilled, there is no place for ragweed to spread, and the incidence of hay fever is low. But here ragweed has bourgeoned on acres spared from the plow, and all attempts to stamp it out have failed.

Antihistamines, which at first seemed to offer a satisfactory way of alleviating the discomforts of hay fever, turned out to have a drawback. They made some people sleepy, thus were potentially dangerous to truck drivers, salesmen and others who spend long hours on the highways.

Now a new drug called plimasin, a combination of antihistamines and ritalin, a stimulant against fatigue and mental depression, has been introduced. Dr. Jerome J. Sievers, chief of the allergy service at Los Angeles Children's Hospital, tested the drug and found it gave relief in many cases and had few side effects.

But all present forms of treatment are palliative only. No real cure has been found, and none is on the horizon.

There is one surefire prescription for beating hay fever, but it's hard to follow.

Hole up in an air-filtered room, hang a "Do not disturb" sign on the door, and hibernate there until the season is over.

Truman's Party Influence

By George Sokolsky

No one can accurately forecast the full effect of Harry Truman's endorsement of Averell Harriman until after election day.

What it means immediately is that Truman has attempted to fill an obvious vacuum in the Dem- has asserted leadership. During the next day or two, his leadership may or may not be followed. If it is, not only will Harriman be nominated but Truman will decide what the platform of the Democratic Party is to be and what the legislative program is to be in the event the Democrats are successful in the presidential election.

Truman has a reputation as a smart politician. In 1948, both the Republicans and Democrats were sure that Truman would be defeated and that Thomas E. Dewey would be elected. Truman took that certainty in his stride. He went to the people and Dewey was defeated.

In 1952, Truman could have run despite the 22nd Amendment which did not apply to him. But Truman could not have been re-elected in 1952 and he knew it. He did not run. Stevenson did and was defeated.

Truman obviously does not like Stevenson, possibly because of his egghead polish which does not sit well on a Midwestern personality. And when he drops his mannerisms, what remains is not as attractive. At any rate, in 1952, Stevenson kept Harry Truman out of the campaign until it was very late, too late. Eisenhower did better by Robert A. Taft, bringing him into the campaign from the very start and giving him the widest latitude. So the Republicans were united, but the Democrats were split asunder. And it can be assumed that Harry Truman never forgot Stevenson's coldness to him. Harry is the sort of person who does not forget.

One important difference between Stevenson and Truman may be summarized in the word, moderation. Harry Truman does not know what that word means. He believes that to defeat an opponent, it is necessary to fight him with every weapon in the arsenal, to knock him down and out, if possible. He believes that the Democrats can defeat the Republicans no matter who runs on the Republican ticket, but such a defeat can only be accomplished if the Democrats fight hard. Harry Truman does not like a polite fighter. He has said so many times.

That is why Harry Truman wants to be in the campaign. He wants to be an active man in the campaign. He wants to make speeches all over the country. He can do that if Harriman runs; he cannot do that if Stevenson runs. Harriman does not resent Truman's increasing popularity; Stevenson seeks public acclaim for himself.

I witnessed a similar incident in the 1936 and 1940 campaigns when Herbert Hoover was given the cold shoulder by the Republicans. Although Hoover made a speech in 1940 at the Republican convention at Philadelphia, the microphones were spiked so that he could not be heard a few feet from where he stood. I had an opportunity to investigate that situation.

Hoover's speech was a fiasco and it was planned that way. But there was a huge host of Republicans who resented the indignity to Hoover and they sat on their hands during the campaign. It was an unorganzed sit-down strike and Roosevelt was elected for a third term despite the long American tradition against it.

Hoover survived the insults of those years and is today the most respected man in his party. Harry Truman, among Democrats, holds a position of affection and honor. He has handled himself with dignity out of the presidency. He may not be the only Democrat who can lead a split party, but he is one of the few who can.

The major problem that faces the Democrats is unity. They do not have even a semblance of unity now. It could be that Harry Truman will produce party unity; it could be that as a result of his intervention, the breach between the North and South will widen.

But no one will succeed in lessening Harry Truman's popularity now that it has been re-asserted.

There are other possible leaders: Senator Lyndon Johnson, Governor Frank Clement and possibly even some presently unappreciated personality who will emerge in the next day or two. A party must have leadership; it must appear at this convention.

Rabbi William Mordecai Kramer, advised the agenda was lengthy, asked divine guidance in this brief fashion:

How To Treat Victim Of Artery Occlusion

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Without an adequate blood supply you'll die.

An adequate blood supply is essential to the various individual parts of your body. For without it they also will die. This usually means gangrene and a serious threat to your life.

Many Causes

Arterial occlusion, the sudden blocking of this blood supply to a limb, can be caused by a number of things.

Symptoms vary, of course.

In about half of the cases, there is sudden and extreme pain. If an extremity is affected, it usually will become pale and you will feel numbness as well as a tingling sensation.

Only a doctor is qualified to treat this serious situation. But there are certain things the patient's family should know.

To Aid Blood Flow

For one thing, the head of the bed should be raised about half a foot. Or the patient can be placed in a semi-sitting position. This places the affected limb lower than the heart and lets gravity aid the flow of blood.

If circulation is severely impaired, an oscillating bed might be advisable.

The limb should be protected from infection, pressure and dehydration. It should be wrapped loosely in a layer of cotton wadding kept in place with a roller bandage. This will help keep it warm. But remember, the temperature around the limb should not exceed 92 degrees Fahrenheit.

Temperature in the patient's room should not be permitted to get above 90 degrees.

Don't Apply Heat

Don't apply heat directly to the affected part unless ordered to do so by your doctor. And don't elevate the limb without orders.

Perhaps your doctor will advise use of a heating pad on the abdomen if he thinks reflex heat may be beneficial. Or perhaps he will suggest immersing the arms in hot water if the feet are affected. This, too, provides reflex heat without applying warmth directly to the affected part.

Smoking should be banned. Whiskey and brandy, however, might aid circulation

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. J.: Would taking vitamins daily take the place of sleep?

Answer: Although vitamins are helpful, it is advisable for you also to get enough sleep.

The average length of life of small common birds, such as the robin, is from 10 to 15 years.

Expense Rules Out Moving of 46 Cats

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Too many cats to move to California prompted Miss Agnes Heinzelmann to give away 46 Siamese felines.

"What has happened to me fulfills an old legend in Siam," she said.

The story goes that those who own Siamese cats will face economic ruin.

"Well, these cats have just about broken me," she said sadly. "They cost $5 a day to feed and there's always worm pills, distemper shots and veterinarian fees."

She's keeping two cats. She loves dogs, but is allergic to them.

Egypt Seeks Gain at Expense of World Peace

There are some bad angles to settlement of the Suez Canal questions which could be a cause for trouble unless some exceptional diplomacy brings about a peaceful settlement.

In some of the demands which Egypt is reported to have made to the British and French in a counter proposal to suggestions for settlement, the cunning hand of the Soviets is declared to be shown.

If Egypt has, as reported, indicated an unwillingness to dicker over the Suez problem unless the Panama Canal and the Dardanelles are internationalized to the same degree, it would appear that a distinct effort is being made to involve the United States in an awkward way.

There is just enough confusing and unfair logic in this proposition to mislead some other nations into believing the suggestion is a good one without their taking into consideration the background history of the Panama Canal and the Dardanelles.

It is being pointed out by competent students of the situation that Egypt is making demands without reference to soundness in her position. She is being persuaded to adopt a course to bring about international trouble and out of such wreckage possibly make gains.

As far as the Suez Canal is concerned, if left to Egypt there never would have been any such Canal.

Also, the Canal becomes Egypt's by treaty in another decade anyway. By terms of a more recent treaty, already broken by her, Egypt recognized the international status of the Canal when the British agreed to remove their troops from the isthmus.

On the other hand the Panama Canal is on territory bought and paid for. It operates under a contract with the Republic of Panama, the terms of which are scrupulously kept. Shipping is not discriminated against for political purposes as Premier Nasser might plan at Suez.

Mention of the Dardanelles shows Russia's hand. She has wanted to control if for centuries. It is not a canal, and the United States could as well demand internationalization of the Bering Straits, or France of the English Channel.

More and more Egyptian Premier Nasser resembles the late Benito Mussolini. The Russians will use him all they can. Peace loving nations believe Suez must be kept open and Egypt must be required to act in a responsible manner.

This Is 'S-Day' for Many

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—This is "S" Day. The "S" stands for sneeze for five million Americans.

It is the opening of the annual hay fever season, when man's best friend is no longer his dog but his pocket handkerchief or the nearest air conditioning machine.

For the next month the land will resound with the wheezing and sneezing of more than five million U. S. victims of this peculiar allergy, which seems to be as old and as mysterious of origin as man himself.

Beware the watery eyed sufferer for the next 31 days. Avoid the mischievous temptation to tell him that hay fever, like seasickness, is all in the mind, or that "it's no worse than an ordinary cold."

Hay fever is no joke to the man who has it. Nor is it any joke to industry. The U. S. Public Health Service estimates hay fever costs 24,750,000 lost work days each summer.

Dr. Rudolph L. Mayer, discoverer of pyribenzime, an antihistamine used in its treatment, lists allergies (hay fever is a leading form) among the first three chronic diseases in America, exceeded in number of cases only by heart ailments and mental illness.

"Actually, the first hay fever symptoms were described by physicians in Greece five centuries before the time of Christ," said Dr. Mayer.

These ancient doctors prescribed remedies of arsenic and belladonna to ease the discomfort, and arsenic is still used in some patent medicines today in the form of Fowler's solution.

Hay fever is peculiarly prevalent in America, oddly enough, because of our prosperity. It is caused by airborne giant ragweed pollen. In Europe and Asia, where almost every scrap of land is carefully tilled, there is no place for ragweed to spread, and the incidence of hay fever is low. But here ragweed has bourgeoned on acres spared from the plow, and all attempts to stamp it out have failed.

Antihistamines, which at first seemed to offer a satisfactory way of alleviating the discomforts of hay fever, turned out to have a drawback. They made some people sleepy, thus were potentially dangerous to truck drivers, salesmen and others who spend long hours on the highways.

Now a new drug called plimasin, a combination of antihistamines and ritalin, a stimulant against fatigue and mental depression, has been introduced. Dr. Jerome J. Sievers, chief of the allergy service at Los Angeles Children's Hospital, tested the drug and found it gave relief in many cases and had few side effects.

But all present forms of treatment are palliative only. No real cure has been found, and none is on the horizon.

There is one surefire prescription for beating hay fever, but it's hard to follow.

Hole up in an air-filtered room, hang a "Do not disturb" sign on the door, and hibernate there until the season is over.

Truman's Party Influence

By George Sokolsky

No one can accurately forecast the full effect of Harry Truman's endorsement of Averell Harriman until after election day.

What it means immediately is that Truman has attempted to fill an obvious vacuum in the Dem- has asserted leadership. During the next day or two, his leadership may or may not be followed. If it is, not only will Harriman be nominated but Truman will decide what the platform of the Democratic Party is to be and what the legislative program is to be in the event the Democrats are successful in the presidential election.

Truman has a reputation as a smart politician. In 1948, both the Republicans and Democrats were sure that Truman would be defeated and that Thomas E. Dewey would be elected. Truman took that certainty in his stride. He went to the people and Dewey was defeated.

In 1952, Truman could have run despite the 22nd Amendment which did not apply to him. But Truman could not have been re-elected in 1952 and he knew it. He did not run. Stevenson did and was defeated.

Truman obviously does not like Stevenson, possibly because of his egghead polish which does not sit well on a Midwestern personality. And when he drops his mannerisms, what remains is not as attractive. At any rate, in 1952, Stevenson kept Harry Truman out of the campaign until it was very late, too late. Eisenhower did better by Robert A. Taft, bringing him into the campaign from the very start and giving him the widest latitude. So the Republicans were united, but the Democrats were split asunder. And it can be assumed that Harry Truman never forgot Stevenson's coldness to him. Harry is the sort of person who does not forget.

One important difference between Stevenson and Truman may be summarized in the word, moderation. Harry Truman does not know what that word means. He believes that to defeat an opponent, it is necessary to fight him with every weapon in the arsenal, to knock him down and out, if possible. He believes that the Democrats can defeat the Republicans no matter who runs on the Republican ticket, but such a defeat can only be accomplished if the Democrats fight hard. Harry Truman does not like a polite fighter. He has said so many times.

That is why Harry Truman wants to be in the campaign. He wants to be an active man in the campaign. He wants to make speeches all over the country. He can do that if Harriman runs; he cannot do that if Stevenson runs. Harriman does not resent Truman's increasing popularity; Stevenson seeks public acclaim for himself.

I witnessed a similar incident in the 1936 and 1940 campaigns when Herbert Hoover was given the cold shoulder by the Republicans. Although Hoover made a speech in 1940 at the Republican convention at Philadelphia, the microphones were spiked so that he could not be heard a few feet from where he stood. I had an opportunity to investigate that situation.

Hoover's speech was a fiasco and it was planned that way. But there was a huge host of Republicans who resented the indignity to Hoover and they sat on their hands during the campaign. It was an unorganzed sit-down strike and Roosevelt was elected for a third term despite the long American tradition against it.

Hoover survived the insults of those years and is today the most respected man in his party. Harry Truman, among Democrats, holds a position of affection and honor. He has handled himself with dignity out of the presidency. He may not be the only Democrat who can lead a split party, but he is one of the few who can.

The major problem that faces the Democrats is unity. They do not have even a semblance of unity now. It could be that Harry Truman will produce party unity; it could be that as a result of his intervention, the breach between the North and South will widen.

But no one will succeed in lessening Harry Truman's popularity now that it has been re-asserted.

There are other possible leaders: Senator Lyndon Johnson, Governor Frank Clement and possibly even some presently unappreciated personality who will emerge in the next day or two. A party must have leadership; it must appear at this convention.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A clergyman opens the Los Angeles City Council meetings with prayer.

Rabbi William Mordecai Kramer, advised the agenda was lengthy, asked divine guidance in this brief fashion:

"To praise the Lord and pass the legislation."

How To Treat Victim Of Artery Occlusion

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Without an adequate blood supply you'll die.

An adequate blood supply is essential to the various individual parts of your body. For without it they also will die. This usually means gangrene and a serious threat to your life.

Many Causes

Arterial occlusion, the sudden blocking of this blood supply to a limb, can be caused by a number of things.

Symptoms vary, of course.

In about half of the cases, there is sudden and extreme pain. If an extremity is affected, it usually will become pale and you will feel numbness as well as a tingling sensation.

Only a doctor is qualified to treat this serious situation. But there are certain things the patient's family should know.

To Aid Blood Flow

For one thing, the head of the bed should be raised about half a foot. Or the patient can be placed in a semi-sitting position. This places the affected limb lower than the heart and lets gravity aid the flow of blood.

If circulation is severely impaired, an oscillating bed might be advisable.

The limb should be protected from infection, pressure and dehydration. It should be wrapped loosely in a layer of cotton wadding kept in place with a roller bandage. This will help keep it warm. But remember, the temperature around the limb should not exceed 92 degrees Fahrenheit.

Temperature in the patient's room should not be permitted to get above 90 degrees.

Don't Apply Heat

Don't apply heat directly to the affected part unless ordered to do so by your doctor. And don't elevate the limb without orders.

Perhaps your doctor will advise use of a heating pad on the abdomen if he thinks reflex heat may be beneficial. Or perhaps he will suggest immersing the arms in hot water if the feet are affected. This, too, provides reflex heat without applying warmth directly to the affected part.

Smoking should be banned. Whiskey and brandy, however, might aid circulation

QUESTION AND ANSWER

M. J.: Would taking vitamins daily take the place of sleep?

Answer: Although vitamins are helpful, it is advisable for you also to get enough sleep.

The average length of life of small common birds, such as the robin, is from 10 to 15 years.

When states are added to the Union, additional stars are affixed only on the following July 4.

Expense Rules Out Moving of 46 Cats

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Too many cats to move to California prompted Miss Agnes Heinzelmann to give away 46 Siamese felines.

"What has happened to me fulfills an old legend in Siam," she said.

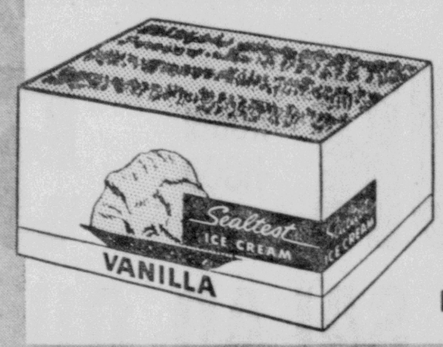

The story goes that those who own Siamese cats will face economic ruin.

"Well, these cats have just about broken me," she said sadly. "They cost $5 a day to feed and there's always worm pills, distemper shots and veterinarian fees."

She's keeping two cats. She loves dogs, but is allergic to them.

Film Made in Fayette County To Show Iran How Americans Live

People in Iran are in for a real look at how the United States lives, works and plays through a film being prepared right here in Fayette County by Fayette County people.

The film, which was conceived by Elton Rhoad, Snowhill Rd., will go with Rhoad early in September when he leaves the U. S. to become an educational adviser in Iran. It is being prepared by the Rotary Club International Relations Committee and the Washington C. H. Camera Club.

Life on the farm, industry in operation, and even the County Fair, are all shown in the film, which will try to communicate a full and realistic picture of U. S. life. Scenes have been taken all over the county in a wide variety of situations.

Pictures of several Fayette County farms have been shown, giving examples of everyday American farming procedures. One shot shows milk going from the cow all the way through to the bottle without being touched by human hands.

Pictures were made in a super market here, following a woman through as she shopped for her family, and showing the wide variety of foods that are a part of the family's regular diet.

Public schools, the water work, and some churches have been shown in the film. A scene was made at the County Hospital, with an "emergency case," coming in by ambulance and being taken in for treatment.

Prize cattle highlighted the Fair scenes, with pictures of the varied array of farm machinery filling up some space. There's even a shot of the uniquely American midway.

Rhoad and Don Wood, chairman of the International Relations committee, are supervising the film. Charles Pensyl is doing the photography with the aid of members of the Camera Club.

Wood said that the film was being sponsored by the Rotary International Relations committee in concord with a plea from the president of Rotary International, Gian Paol Lang, that member clubs "learn more about each other."

Rhoad will take the film with him when he leaves this country early in September for Iran. He will show it several places along the way and more after he reaches Iran.

Penitentiary Removal Said Needed Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. John D. Porterfield said today the next logical step in expansion of the state's penal system will be removal of the Ohio Penitentiary from downtown Columbus to a rural site.

Porterfield, director of the State Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, made the statement in connection with release of an architect's sketch of the proposed 11-million-dollar southern Ohio reformatory near Lebanon.

The director said the Lebanon institution is designed to house 1,500 men.

"The new Marion Correctional Institution, which is currently taking selected inmates from the Ohio Penitentiary, will serve instead as the reformatory for northern Ohio," Porterfield said.

"The Ohio Penitentiary will serve southern Ohio and the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield will become the penitentiary for northern Ohio."

These steps will make possible reduction of Ohio Penitentiary's population to about 2,500, and removal of the pen to a rural Columbus site is the next logical step, he asserted.

Porterfield said construction of the Lebanon building is scheduled to start early next year and to be completed by 1959.

The 200-man Lebanon Honor farm, which stands on the site of the proposed reformatory, will become an honor installation of the institution, according to plans.

The new institution will include 10 cellblocks, a segregation unit, a 40-bed hospital, food service facility and two acres of shops, schoolrooms, recreation facilities and chapels, Porterfield said.

It will be the only correctional institution in Ohio with cellblocks containing nothing but one-man cells.

New Indiana Turnpike Open To South Bend

ANGOLA, Ind. (AP)—Members of the Indiana Toll Road Commission and the Ohio Turnpike Commission opened the eastern half of the Northern Indiana Toll Road at one minute after midnight today.

Commission members were first onto the Ohio-to-South Bend section of the road as it was opened to the public, a full month ahead of the Sept. 15 contract date.

The opening means that motorists may now drive from New York City to South Bend without stops except at filling stations and state-line toll plazas.

It took a little emergency work to get the road in shape for use today. Lightning blew a two-foot hole in the pavement east of Howe earlier in the week, and workmen poured quick-drying cement in it yesterday.

Statutory speed limits of 65 miles per hour for automobiles, 55 for buses and 45 for trucks were in effect as the toll road opened.

The Toll Road Commission last night passed a resolution setting limits at 60 m.p.h. for buses and 50 m.p.h. for trucks, but avoided a clash with state police by making higher limits subject to approval by the attorney general. State police had said statutory limits would be enforced unless the attorney general should rule the commission has authority to raise them.

The road will be one of the most tightly patrolled in the country, with one state trooper for every 15 miles of super highway.

Commission members were first onto the Ohio-to-South Bend section of the road as it was opened to the public, a full month ahead of the Sept. 15 contract date.

The opening means that motorists may now drive from New York City to South Bend without stops except at filling stations and state-line toll plazas.

It took a little emergency work to get the road in shape for use today. Lightning blew a two-foot hole in the pavement east of Howe earlier in the week, and workmen poured quick-drying cement in it yesterday.

Statutory speed limits of 65 miles per hour for automobiles, 55 for buses and 45 for trucks were in effect as the toll road opened.

The Toll Road Commission last night passed a resolution setting limits at 60 m.p.h. for buses and 50 m.p.h. for trucks, but avoided a clash with state police by making higher limits subject to approval by the attorney general. State police had said statutory limits would be enforced unless the attorney general should rule the commission has authority to raise them.

The road will be one of the most tightly patrolled in the country, with one state trooper for every 15 miles of super highway.

Medical Care Biggest Item In Cost Rise

Bill for Doctor, Pills Up One-Fourth Within Last Six Years in U. S.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)— Medical care has taken the biggest rise of any item on the cost of living index. It is one-fourth higher than six years ago.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics put medical care now at 132 per cent of the 1947-49 average, compared with 116.2 for the entire Consumer Price Index also at a record high.

The cost rise hasn't deterred Americans from seeking more medical attention than ever before and accepting newer and costlier treatments almost without question. But the high costs have sparked a rush for insurance protection that is most spectacular.

The Health Insurance Council, a group of eight insurance associations, reports today that benefit payments under voluntary health insurance programs are running one fifth higher this year than last. Total payments under these plans in 1955 for hospital, surgical and other medical expenses, plus loss of income benefits, topped three billion dollars.

The Council estimates a record 110 million Americans are now covered by hospital insurance — a gain of 6 per cent in a year and nine times as many as in 1941. Hospital charges paid for them last year came to more than 1½ billion dollars, with the insurance companies and the Blue Cross-Blue Shield plans splitting the bill fairly evenly.

Surgical expense protection is held by 94 million now — 17 times as many as in 1941.

This is only part of the story, however. Millions of employes have some loss of income protection through paid sick leave plans, including those administered by unions or employe mutual benefit associations. Workmen's compensation laws protect about 45 million against expense and income loss due to occupational accident or disease. The federal government gives four million persons, mostly military, complete medical care and some 3½ million veterans can get complete care for service connected disabilities.

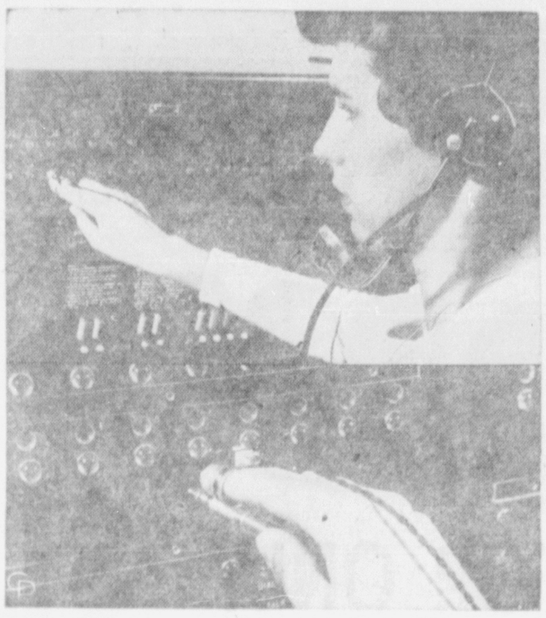

A-Engine Roars For 66 Full Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—A duplicate of the atomic engine which powers the submarine Nautilus has been run at full power for 66 days and nights without refueling.

The Atomic Energy Commission, announcing completion of the test run at its Idaho testing station, said the experiment was made "to prove the reliability and stamina of pressurized water reactors for ship propulsion."

"If the Nautilus itself had made a cruise for this length of time— 1,600 hours — she could have steamed at top speed, submerged, around the world and many thousands of miles more," it said.

India has brought 17 million acres of land under irrigation in the past five years.

A LIGHT-SENSITIVE device worn on tip of the finger, which enables the blind to operate telephone switchboards, is demonstrated by Miss Ann Boyd of Bell Telephone laboratories in New York. The electronic "eye," using a phototransistor, signals the blind operator when her finger passes over switchboard lamp which is lit, meaning call. Thus she knows which line to plug. (International)

Burglary Tool Hearing Slated

COLUMBUS (AP) — A municipal court judge has set bonds of $20,000 each on four men charged with possession of burglary tools.

Judge John C. Duffy set the bonds on Vincent Innocenzi, 36, Anthony J. Velletto, 40, Thomas Rudelik, 32, all of Cleveland, and Dave F. Tiburzio, 32, of Hubbard.

The four are scheduled to appear in court today for a preliminary hearing.

The four, arrested last Thursday in Mt. Gilead had an array of keys and locksmith tools worth thousands of dollars, police said.

Adlai's Aunt Letty Campaigning, Too

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's 80-year-old "Aunt Letty," Miss Letitia Stevenson of St. Louis, is campaigning for him at the Democratic National Convention.

Miss Stevenson went on tour with her nephew during the 1952 campaign. This was nothing new for her. She once traveled the political trails with her father, Adlai Stevenson, who was vice president under Grover Cleveland.

Insulted by Fence

BONNYVILLE, Sask. (AP)—Councillors of this Northeastern Alberta town described a new steel picket fence around the federal building as a "Monstrosity," dangerous and an insult to Bonnyville.

Airlines Vie For Service at Ohio Points

Hearing Due Sept. 11 As Routes into South Boom in Popularity

WASHINGTON (AP) — An airline fight for scores of new routes in the Great Lakes states and points south opens Sept. 11. Almost every Ohio city with a commercial airport has a stake in the outcome.

One of the biggest hearings in Civil Aeronautics Board history the case involves 14 airlines asking a vast network of new runs in an area bounded roughly by Chicago, Atlanta, Washington-Baltimore and Miami.

Possibly the most important seek is the swarm of vacationing group of passengers these lines northerners who go to Florida

For example, Eastern Airlines wants to set up non-stop Dayton-Jacksonville and Dayton - Miami routes. Eastern also wants to extend its Miami-Pittsburgh run to Detroit, making new stops at Youngstown, Akron - Canton and Cleveland.

As another illustration, Capital Airlines is asking permission to pick up passengers at Toledo, Cleveland, Akron - Canton and Youngstown on a Minneapolis to Miami flight.

Other requested routes would expand Ohio air service to such southern points as Houston, Atlanta and Charleston, S. C.

New east-west routes for Ohioans also will be under consideration, particularly added services for those flying to and from Washington.

Columbus has expressed special interest in more service of this kind to CAB Examiner William F. Cusick, who will preside over the hearing.

Ohio points directly concerned in the hearing are Cincinnati, Dayton, Columbus, Toledo, Youngstown, Akron, Canton, Cleveland, Lima and Zanesville.

The case was started by Eastern. This line, which carries most of the air passengers to Florida east of the Mississippi, had asked the board for some schedule changes. Then the demands for new runs started piling in from other carriers.

"We're sort of a defendant in the case," said Robert Ramspeck, vice president of Eastern, "since the other lines just want to duplicate our routes to the South."

Eastern contends there isn't enough business for competing carriers and that, while there is a shortage of space on some runs, this will be solved once Eastern obtains new planes.

The other carriers dispute this. They say new competition will improve service all around.

Competing lines in the case are Eastern, Allegheny, American, Capital, Delta, Lake Central, Mohawk, National, North American, North Central, Northwest, Piedmont, Riddle, Trans World and United.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Dismissal of an indictment charging former newspaperman Carl Braden with advocating sedition has been ordered by Judge L. R. Curtis.

The charges grew out of an explosion at the home of a Negro electrical contractor, Andrew Wade IV. Braden had purchased a house for Wade in an all-white area.

Airlines Vie For Service at Ohio Points

Hearing Due Sept. 11 As Routes into South Boom in Popularity

WASHINGTON (AP) — An airline fight for scores of new routes in the Great Lakes states and points south opens Sept. 11. Almost every Ohio city with a commercial airport has a stake in the outcome.

One of the biggest hearings in Civil Aeronautics Board history the case involves 14 airlines asking a vast network of new runs in an area bounded roughly by Chicago, Atlanta, Washington-Baltimore and Miami.

Possibly the most important seek is the swarm of vacationing group of passengers these lines northerners who go to Florida.

For example, Eastern Airlines wants to set up non-stop Dayton-Jacksonville and Dayton - Miami routes. Eastern also wants to extend its Miami-Pittsburgh run to Detroit, making new stops at Youngstown, Akron - Canton and Cleveland.

As another illustration, Capital Airlines is asking permission to pick up passengers at Toledo, Cleveland, Akron - Canton and Youngstown on a Minneapolis to Miami flight.

Other requested routes would expand Ohio air service to such southern points as Houston, Atlanta and Charleston, S. C.

New east-west routes for Ohioans also will be under consideration, particularly added services for those flying to and from Washington.

Columbus has expressed special interest in more service of this kind to CAB Examiner William F. Cusick, who will preside over the hearing.

Ohio points directly concerned in the hearing are Cincinnati, Dayton, Columbus, Toledo, Youngstown, Akron, Canton, Cleveland, Lima and Zanesville.

The case was started by Eastern. This line, which carries most of the air passengers to Florida east of the Mississippi, had asked the board for some schedule changes. Then the demands for new runs started piling in from other carriers.

"We're sort of a defendant in the case," said Robert Ramspeck, vice president of Eastern, "since the other lines just want to duplicate our routes to the South."

Eastern contends there isn't enough business for competing carriers and that, while there is a shortage of space on some runs, this will be solved once Eastern obtains new planes.

The other carriers dispute this. They say new competition will improve service all around.

Competing lines in the case are Eastern, Allegheny, American, Capital, Delta, Lake Central, Mohawk, National, North American, North Central, Northwest, Piedmont, Riddle, Trans World and United.

Extra Precautions Urged on Drivers In Next Few Weeks

Ship and plane crashes get the headlines, but the automobile is still the greatest killer of them all, reminds an official of the Fayette County Automobile Club.

"We read every word, look at every picture, and discuss in awe all the details when ocean vessels or transcontinental airplanes collide, but many of us have become so accustomed to reports of automobile accidents we scarcely glance at the headlines," says the local AAA club official.

"Yet death is just as final and its results just as disastrous to the family when it occurs on the highway as on the water or in the air."

The next two or three weeks can be among the worst of the year for auto deaths and injuries, the statement warns, adding that "travel may be heavier than ever as more people get in a final vacation 'fling' climaxed by the long week-end of Labor Day.

"For the rest of this month and through the holiday, every driver who cares anything at all about his own family, to say nothing of the welfare of others who cross his vacation path, will be exerting precaution in all his travels.

"No vacation trip can be worth the cost of a life!"

Sabina Horse Show Set for Labor Day

SABINA — The Annual Western Horse Show, sponsored by the Sabina Volunteer Fire Department, will be held Labor Day, at Sabina Memorial Field.

A parade, races, show events and a merry-go-round for children will be among the attractions at the holiday celebration.

The Sept. 3 show, which will start at 1 p. m. will be preceded by a western parade at 11 a. m.

The winners of twelve events will be awarded money, trophies and ribbons. Herman Ingram will judge the events and Roger Aimes and "Lefty" McFadden will announce them.

The custom of placing flowers on graves arose from the belief of the ancients that the dead enjoyed the fragrance of the blossoms.

'Hamlet' Popular; Antioch to Give Extra Performances

Because of the unprecedented demand for "Hamlet" tickets, the Antioch Shakespeare Festival has been forced to revise its 1956 schedule of plays to include two additional performances of the play.

In addition to regularly scheduled performances of "Hamlet" on Monday, Aug. 17 through 20, and on Saturday, Aug. 25, and Sunday, Sept. 2, "Hamlet" also will be performed on Tuesday, Aug. 28, in place of "All's Well That Ends Well," and on Tuesday, Sept. 4, in place of "Love's Labour's Lost."

Persons holding tickets for the Aug. 28 performance of "All's Well" and the Sept. 4 showing of "Love's Labour's" are asked to contact the box office at once by calling or writing the Antioch Shakespeare Festival, Yellow Springs.

Judge Lang To Speak at BPW National Security Program

"Americanism" will be the subject of an address by Judge James W. Lang Jr. at a dinner meeting of the Washington C. H. Business and Professional Women's Club at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Washington Country Club.

Judge Lang, who presides over the Adams County Common Pleas Court at West Union, is the chairman of the Americanism Committee of the American Legion's Department of Ohio. He is active on other Legion committees and in the past has been 7th District commander and judge advocate, Department of Ohio.

THE JURIST also is a member of the Adams County Ohio State and American Bar Associations. He received his education at Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State universities.

His other activities include Boy Scout and American Cancer Society work as well as participation in the affairs of Masonic orders and the Lions Club.

Mrs. Gladys Stitt, chairman of the BPW's National Security Committee which is sponsoring this month's meeting, announces that the program also will include entertainment.

Extra Precautions Urged on Drivers In Next Few Weeks

Ship and plane crashes get the headlines, but the automobile is still the greatest killer of them all, reminds an official of the Fayette County Automobile Club.

"We read every word, look at every picture, and discuss in awe all the details when ocean vessels or transcontinental airplanes collide, but many of us have become so accustomed to reports of automobile accidents we scarcely glance at the headlines," says the local AAA club official.

"Yet death is just as final and its results just as disastrous to the family when it occurs on the highway as on the water or in the air."

The next two or three weeks can be among the worst of the year for auto deaths and injuries, the statement warns, adding that "travel may be heavier than ever as more people get in a final vacation 'fling' climaxed by the long week-end of Labor Day.

"For the rest of this month and through the holiday, every driver who cares anything at all about his own family, to say nothing of the welfare of others who cross his vacation path, will be exerting precaution in all his travels.

"No vacation trip can be worth the cost of a life!"

Sabina Horse Show Set for Labor Day

SABINA — The Annual Western Horse Show, sponsored by the Sabina Volunteer Fire Department, will be held Labor Day, at Sabina Memorial Field.

A parade, races, show events and a merry-go-round for children will be among the attractions at the holiday celebration.

The Sept. 3 show, which will start at 1 p. m. will be preceded by a western parade at 11 a. m.

The winners of twelve events will be awarded money, trophies and ribbons. Herman Ingram will judge the events and Roger Aimes and "Lefty" McFadden will announce them.

The custom of placing flowers on graves arose from the belief of the ancients that the dead enjoyed the fragrance of the blossoms.

'Hamlet' Popular; Antioch to Give Extra Performances

Because of the unprecedented demand for "Hamlet" tickets, the Antioch Shakespeare Festival has been forced to revise its 1956 schedule of plays to include two additional performances of the play.

In addition to regularly scheduled performances of "Hamlet" on Monday, Aug. 17 through 20, and on Saturday, Aug. 25, and Sunday, Sept. 2, "Hamlet" also will be performed on Tuesday, Aug. 28, in place of "All's Well That Ends Well," and on Tuesday, Sept. 4, in place of "Love's Labour's Lost."

Persons holding tickets for the Aug. 28 performance of "All's Well" and the Sept. 4 showing of "Love's Labour's" are asked to contact the box office at once by calling or writing the Antioch Shakespeare Festival, Yellow Springs.

The girl who was removed to Memorial Hospital, in the Gerstner ambulance, received bruises but was not seriously hurt.

Police investigating the accident, said Miller was turning from Hinde into Court St., heading east, and the girl, according to witnesses, started across Court St. from the Wilson corner, pushing a bicycle and looking away from the car. Miller jammed on the brakes, witnesses said, but could not stop in time to prevent colliding with the girl and bicycle.

Girl Struck by Car Not Seriously Hurt

Julia Leaverton, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Leaverton, Oak and Main Sts., escaped with painful bruises about 3:45 p. m. Wednesday when she walked in front of a car driven by Harry Miller, 75, of 806 S. Fayette St., at the intersection of W. Court and Hinde Sts.

The girl who was removed to Memorial Hospital, in the Gerstner ambulance, received bruises but was not seriously hurt.

Police investigating the accident, said Miller was turning from Hinde into Court St., heading east, and the girl, according to witnesses, started across Court St. from the Wilson corner, pushing a bicycle and looking away from the car. Miller jammed on the brakes, witnesses said, but could not stop in time to prevent colliding with the girl and bicycle.

'Inflation' Said Wrong Word For Conditions

But Most Families See Bills Running Higher Than Year Ago Anyhow

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The purists say that inflation is the wrong word for what's happening today to the cost of living.

The rise in the price of materials and finished goods and the hike in the cost of labor and of services should, they say, be called by some other name.

But most men, noting that the month's bills are higher than they were a year ago, probably will go right on calling it inflation.

What the economists mean by inflation is the blowing up of the supply of money. As the supply multiplies the value of money goes down — as in the case of any other commodity. When you call today's dollar a 50 cent dollar you don't mean that it doesn't have 100 cents as always, but that it will buy now only as much as 50 cents would buy in the depressed 30's.

Economists lay most of the blame for this to the puffing up of bank credits and the money supply during World War II and the Korean War. This is a favorite device of governments for financing wars.

The same economists point out that what's happening to the cost of goods today is different. The government isn't inflating the money supply.

Actually the U. S. Treasury has made a token cut in the federal debt. The Federal Reserve Board is keeping credit tight and the money supply adequate but no more, and holding a firm thumb on any inflation of commercial bank funds. As a result yields on government bonds have risen and investors demand higher interest before parting with their funds, as some corporations and localities have learned to their sorrow.

This is the opposite of monetary inflation. And some interests, notably home builders, have protested against the policy.

Still the average man notes that he will be asked more when he buys a car this fall or a home appliance or a farm tractor or wants to put up a building or buy machinery. Men's suits will cost more and so will carpets and shoes and beer. Freight rates may go up again.

Faced with a stiffer demand on his pocketbook, his natural instinct is to try to get more money into that pocketbook to meet higher prices.

It does little good to tell him that if he demands a higher wage he will just add to the forces that are pushing prices up. What matters to him is that somehow he must have more money to provide the goods and services his family's appetites demand.

Ohio Gasoline Tax Takes Jump

COLUMBUS (AP)—State Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers says that Ohio collected $146,759,242 in gasoline tax in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1956.

Bowers said this represented an increase of more than $11 million or 8.13 per cent over the 1955 fiscal year collection.

Refunds for 1956 totaled 17,832,880, more than $233,000 or 3.07 per cent over the amount refunded the previous year, Bowers said.

'Inflation' Said Wrong Word For Conditions

But Most Families See Bills Running Higher Than Year Ago Anyhow

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The purists say that inflation is the wrong word for what's happening today to the cost of living.

The rise in the price of materials and finished goods and the hike in the cost of labor and of services should, they say, be called by some other name.

But most men, noting that the month's bills are higher than they were a year ago, probably will go right on calling it inflation

What the economists mean by inflation is the blowing up of the supply of money. As the supply multiplies the value of money goes down — as in the case of any other commodity. New Social Security Setup For Women To Start Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women covered by Social Security will soon be able to begin drawing retirement payments at age 62 in the first break from the age 65 deadline fixed when the program was set up 20 years ago.

The change, sponsored by Democratic leaders, was embodied in the Social Security bill passed by Congress on the day it adjourned and since signed by President Eisenhower.

The bill makes no change in age 65 retirement for men. However, one provision gives a break to married men who expect to receive retirement checks under Social Security. It will permit their wives to start getting the wife's benefit at age 62. Until now, the wife had to wait until she herself reached 65.

Under the new law qualified women between 62 and 65 will be able to begin receiving payments starting in December. The age 62 retirement is optional.

For one group of women, widows of deceased wokers covered by Social Security, the new law provides payments at 62 equivalent to the full amount they now receive at 65.

The widow's benefit amounts to three fourths of what her husband would have been entitled to at retirement. Thus, if he were eligible for the maximum, $108.50 a month, she would receive $81.40.

Women workers and wives of retired workers must take a reduced rate of payment for life if they go on the rolls before 65.

Women workers retiring at 62 will receive 80 per cent of the full age 65 payment. For those entitled to the $108.50-a-month maximum at 65, age 62 retirement would mean a monthly payment for life of $87.

For each month beyond 62 that the workers waited to go on the rolls, however, she would get an additional five ninths of 1 per cent of her full payment rate. Thus a recipient entitled to the maximum payment would get $94 a month if she retired at age 63, or $101 at age 64.

A wife of a retired worker would receive 75 per cent of her age 65 payment if she elected to go on the rolls at 62. For each month that she waited after reaching 62, her payment would be increased 25 thirty-sixths of 1 per cent.

The bill does not change the requirement that the husband must have started receiving his Social Security checks before his wife can get hers, which amount to half of the husband's. Thus a woman older than her husband cannot draw benefits until he reaches 65.

A wife going on the rolls at 62, if her husband was entitled to the maximum payment of $108.50 a month, would get $40.50 instead of the $54.30 which she would be paid if she waited to age 65.

Thus a couple in this bracket would get $149 a month if the wife went on the rolls at 62 as compared with the $162.80 they would receive if she waited until age 65. If the wife began receiving payments at 63, the monthly check would be $154 if she started at age 64, it would be $158.

The lower schedules of payments for the two groups were worked out actuarially to give women electing retirement before 65 about the same total amount of money, spread out over a longer period of years, as they would receive if they waited until 65.

Experts for the Social Security Administration estimate about 300,000 working women, 300,000 wives of retired workers, and 200,000 widows will take advantage of before-65 retirement in the first year.

Since the first checks under the new program will go out in four months, women expecting to take advantage of it are being advised to file claims at their district Social Security offices promptly. Officials expect a heavy crush of applications at the outset of the program.

Authorities maintain the original home of Angora cats was Persia or Arabia.

Health For All

Is Ragweed Here to Stay?

With running eyes and red noses, the ragweed victims plead for an answer to their annual problem. Are they doomed to suffer every summer the misery of their allergy to this plant Public Enemy?

There's no easy answer to the question. Ragweed is being attacked on three fronts: eradication of the plant, immunizing shots for the sufferer, research on the basic causes of hypersensitivity.

Frankly, there's not much immediate hope for eradication of ragweed. Botanically, it's a splendid plant, beautifully adapted for survival. Communities have spent small fortunes eradicating ragweed plants only to have the next season's pollen count as high as ever. Ragweed is found almost everywhere in cities, towns and country. The light grains of pollen are blown great distances over land and water. Modern herbicides kill the weeds effectively, but the seeds can live in the soil for 40 years. Nationwide eradication efforts would have to be repeated every year for 40 years. At the end of such a staggeringly expensive program the ragweed might be gone, but so might food plants and trees.

New developments in chemicals which kill weed seeds in the soil hold out some hope for the future, but what is the ragweed sufferer to do in the meantime? There are a few places in the United States where there is little or no ragweed, because the soil or climate discourages it and because natural barriers, such as high mountain ranges, keep out air - borne pollen. But suppose the victim can't or doesn't want to pull up stakes? It will help somewhat to pull up the ragweed in his own backyard. Some victims are helped by shots which desensitize or immunize against pollen. There are also nose drops and pills which give relief. These, however, should be taken only with the advice of a doctor.

Much more needs to be known about the basic causes of allergies that afflict more than 17,000,000 Americans. Research is needed for better methods of prevention and treatment. Meantime, the sufferer should follow his doctor's advice for the best means of getting through the season with as little misery as possible.

Actress Shocks Film Studio, Saying She Couldn't Dance

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —In this rock 'n' roll age it's downright amazing to find a young movie star luscious enough to be a "Miss America" finalist, yet who never learned to dance.

But it's so.

Vera Miles, touted as one of the hottest screen properties in months, is a girl who never had been on a ballroom floor until this week.

And it took an important movie scene then to get her there. She is playing Betty Compton, the second wife of the late Jimmy Walker, in "Beau James."

Bob Hope plays Walker. In one of the key scenes, the dapper New York mayor takes Miss Compton dancing in the Central Park Casino while still married to his first wife. At the time, the incident amounted to political suicide for Walker, a favorite with New York's big Catholic voting bloc.

Vera said she dreaded the scene for weeks but finally broke the news to director Mel Shavelson, producer Jack Rose and Hope.

When she told them she couldn't dance, they chorused as one: 'You're kidding!"

It was a first for Paramount studio. Not in the memory of the studio's oldest timer had such a problem arisen before. Dancing, like cheesecake, is taken for granted as a necessary stock-in trade for all pretty girls in Hollywood. And Vera is definitely not the wallflower type.

After a hurried conference, choreographer Jack Baker was called in and Vera now knows how to dance.

Asked how such a pretty girl ever escaped dancing cheek-to cheek with boyfriends all these years, she explained:

"I've just been too busy working all these years. When the kids in my high school class were out dancing, I had to work nights to keep in school."

"ITS SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

New Social Security Setup For Women To Start Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women covered by Social Security will soon be able to begin drawing retirement payments at age 62 in the first break from the age 65 deadline fixed when the program was set up 20 years ago.

The lower schedules of payments for the two groups were worked out actuarially to give women electing retirement before 65 about the same total amount of money, spread out over a longer period of years, as they would receive if they waited until 65.

Experts for the Social Security Administration estimate about 300,000 working women, 300,000 wives of retired workers, and 200,000 widows will take advantage of before-65 retirement in the first year.

Since the first checks under the new program will go out in four months, women expecting to take advantage of it are being advised to file claims at their district Social Security offices promptly. Officials expect a heavy crush of applications at the outset of the program.

Authorities maintain the original home of Angora cats was Persia or Arabia.

Health For All

Is Ragweed Here to Stay?

With running eyes and red noses, the ragweed victims plead for an answer to their annual problem. Are they doomed to suffer every summer the misery of their allergy to this plant Public Enemy?

There's no easy answer to the question. Ragweed is being attacked on three fronts: eradication of the plant, immunizing shots for the sufferer, research on the basic causes of hypersensitivity.

Frankly, there's not much immediate hope for eradication of ragweed. Botanically, it's a splendid plant, beautifully adapted for survival. Communities have spent small fortunes eradicating ragweed plants only to have the next season's pollen count as high as ever. Ragweed is found almost everywhere in cities, towns, and country. The light grains of pollen are blown great distances over land and water. Modern herbicides kill the weeds effectively, but the seeds can live in the soil for 40 years. Nationwide eradication efforts would have to be repeated every year for 40 years. At the end of such a staggeringly expensive program the ragweed might be gone, but so might food plants and trees.

New developments in chemicals which kill weed seeds in the soil hold out some hope for the future, but what is the ragweed sufferer to do in the meantime? There are a few places in the United States where there is little or no ragweed, because the soil or climate discourages it and because natural barriers, such as high mountain ranges, keep out air-borne pollen. But suppose the victim can't or doesn't want to pull up stakes? It will help somewhat to pull up the ragweed in his own backyard. Some victims are helped by shots which desensitize or immunize against pollen. There are also nose drops and pills which give relief. These, however, should be taken only with the advice of a doctor.

Much more needs to be known about the basic causes of allergies that afflict more than 17,000,000 Americans. Research is needed for better methods of prevention and treatment. Meantime, the sufferer should follow his doctor's advice for the best means of getting through the season with as little misery as possible.

Actress Shocks Film Studio, Saying She Couldn't Dance

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —In this rock 'n' roll age it's downright amazing to find a young movie star luscious enough to be a "Miss America" finalist, yet who never learned to dance.

But it's so.

Vera Miles, touted as one of the hottest screen properties in months, is a girl who never had been on a ballroom floor until this week.

And it took an important movie scene then to get her there. She is playing Betty Compton, the second wife of the late Jimmy Walker, in "Beau James."

Bob Hope plays Walker. In one of the key scenes, the dapper New York mayor takes Miss Compton dancing in the Central Park Casino while still married to his first wife. At the time, the incident amounted to political suicide for Walker, a favorite with New York's big Catholic voting bloc.

Vera said she dreaded the scene for weeks but finally broke the news to director Mel Shavelson, producer Jack Rose and Hope.

When she told them she couldn't dance, they chorused as one: "You're kidding!"

It was a first for Paramount studio. Not in the memory of the studio's oldest timer had such a problem arisen before. Dancing, like cheesecake, is taken for granted as a necessary stock-in-trade for all pretty girls in Hollywood. And Vera is definitely not the wallflower type.

After a hurried conference, choreographer Jack Baker was called in and Vera now knows how to dance.

Asked how such a pretty girl ever escaped dancing cheek-to-cheek with boyfriends all these years, she explained:

"I've just been too busy working all these years. When the kids in my high school class were out dancing, I had to work nights to keep in school."

"ITS SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Real Artisans To Demonstrate Pioneer Crafts at State Fair

COLUMBUS—Pioneer crafts that played a part in the everyday life of early Ohioans will be demonstrated at the Ohio Historical Society's exhibition at the Ohio State Fair, August 24-31.

Artisans will employ the methods and techniques of a century or more ago at the Historical Society tent immediately south of the fairground race track. They will include a gunsmith, basket weavers and shake makers. On the grounds outside the tent under a spreading tree (it won't be a chestnut) a blacksmith will ply his hammer and tongs beside a forge.

The unusual craftsmen obtained by the Historical Society for the true-to-life demonstrations still work at the old trades for a livelihood, said Erwin C. Zepp, director of the society.

THE GUNSMITH is the widely known Cecil G. Brooks of Lowell, in Washington County, 10 miles up the Muskingum from Marietta. A toolmaker turned gunsmith since 1937, Brooks won national recognition last year. He was chosen by the National Rifle Association to to recreate in detail a working model of the famed Kentucky flintlock rifle, the type used by Daniel Boone and Simon Kenton and other frontiersmen of their day. The rifle was presented by the association to Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson in Washington. The blacksmith whose anvil will be heard ringing across the fairground is C. W. Monks of Nelsonville. Seventy-one years old, he has maintained his business on the same site in Nelsonville for 45 years. He has informed the Historical Society that he still shoes a few horse and he has promised to demonstrate that phase of his craft if the opportunity is offered. His shop on the fairground will be equipped for general smith work.

The search for a basket weaver who still works in the pioneer manner was a long one. He was located by Robert C. Wheeler, the society's field representative, in southwestern Morgan County, not far from Burr Oak Lake. The weaver is Elmer Rutter, head of a family of basket weavers. The Rutters cut their own lumber, process it, and make a limited number of baskets for the retail trade. One of their number will make rough wood shingles the pioneers called shakes.

The demonstrations will be a part of a greatly enlarged Society exhibition whose theme will be "transportation and a study in contrasts," Zepp said. While emphasis has been shifted to the large scene, all important features of the Society's popular antique farm equipment shows of 1954 and 1955 have been retained for 1956, the director added. Modern transportation vehicles and the latest models of farm machinery will provide contrast.

An Indian canoe and a saddled horse will represent the earliest mode of travel in Ohio. A Conestoga wagon, a Concord coach, and a duck-back buggy will portray the heydey of the horse-drawn vehicle. Typical of the 19th and early 20th century vehicles will be a sleigh, a fringe-topped surrey, a phaeton, a delivery wagon, a mail wagon, a street car, a hearse, a steam fire engine, bicycles, baby carriage, and skates. All early vehicles are in the Ohio State Museum collections, some to be shown for the first time.

Millar Says USTA Chief's Action Is OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An official of the U.S. Trotting Assn. said today that USTA President Lawrence Sheppard has violated none of the organization's rules or regulations.

Don R. Millar, executive vice president of the USTA, made the statement in reply to a demand that the USTA rename every Harness horse called "Hanover" within 30 days. The demand was voiced Tuesday in Detroit by Harness Tracks of America (HTA), an association of 18 of the nation's leading parimutuel harness tracks.

HTA charged that the USTA allowed the name to be tied in with the advertising of men's shoes in "published exploitation of the entire harness industry."

HTA said a fee of $60,000 is paid each year by a shoe manufacturer to the Hanover Shoe Farms, breeding establishment headed by Sheppard.

In exchange, HTA charged, all horses sold by the farm are named Hanover regardless of their breeding. HTA termed this a "flagrant violation" of USTA rules.

Millar said the HTA charge will be referred to the USTA board of directors at its next meeting. He declared that the question has never come up before.

"In my opinion," Millar said, "Mr. Sheppard has not violated the USTA registration rule since Hanover is a geographical name and not a trade name."

Police Interrupt Wedding Plans

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wedding of Pvt. Jerry Dewan, a soldier on leave from Fort Carson, Colo., and Mrs. Mary Farkas, Van Nuys, Calif., divorcee, will have to wait a while.

Police interrupted their plans Monday. They arrested the pair in a service station and booked them three holdups.

They attended a drinking party Sunday and decided on the holdups to finance a wedding in Las Vegas, Nev. In their car police found a wedding gown, complete with veil.

3 Kidnap-Thugs Granted Paroles

COLUMBUS (AP)—Three men who kidnaped and robbed a Dayton tavern manager in 1946, have received paroles from the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission.

They are George Moran, 62, Virgil Summers, 43, and Albert Fouts, 66, all of Dayton.

They entered Ohio Penitentiary Aug. 9, 1946, to serve 10-25 year sentences for the armed robbery of John Crupe Jr.

Crupe was returning to the Silas Tavern in Marine City, a Dayton suburb, with $10,000 which was to be used to cash payroll checks at the tavern when kidnaped.

Slapped Face Leads to No Further Complaints

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Judge M. C. Lewis, Jr., reports that a marital triangle case was settled out of court — in fact, right outside the courtroom.

The wife was accused of making telephone threats to another woman. The judge took no punitive action, but admonished the two women to leave each other alone.

Wife, hubby and the other woman left the courtroom together. Seconds later there was the sound of a vigorous slap. A witness told the court it was delivered by the "other woman."

No further complaints.

Redlegs Get 3 Homers in Cub Twin Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Cincinnati's Redlegs slammed three homers in yesterday's double victory over the Chicago Cubs, and one of the homers toppled an old team mark.

Ed Bailey broke the all-time record for Redleg catchers with his 21st homer of the season in the second inning of the opener, bringing in a pair of runs.

Wally Post and catcher Smoky Burgess keynoted the Reds' five run uprising in the third inning of the second, Post belting his first grand slam homer of the season and Burgess following with his eighth homer this year.

The Reds had to go 15 innings to take the first game, 4-3, while the second game was abbreviated by darkness to six innings when the Reds held a 7-3 advantage.

Starter Hal Jeffcoat worked through 12 innings before yielding the mound to John Klippstein who collected the victory.

After scoring in the fifth inning, the Reds couldn't put another man across until rookie Frank Robinson singled with the bases loaded in the 15th and scored Ray Jablonski with what proved the winning run.

The Reds blew a 3-1 lead in the seventh when Pete Whisenant blasted a two-run homer to tie up the game.

Art Fowler gave up 10 hits in the second game, but with the Redlegs' heavy hitting behind him, stayed on to take his eighth win against 10 defeats.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts named Brooks Lawrence to oppose Sam Jones in the final game today of the four contests scheduled here.

Hamtramck, the defending regional champion, defeated Ashland, Ohio, 3-2, on a fifth-inning home run by Don Markowitz and four-hit pitching by Al Stubbs. Hamtramck also beat Ashland by one run a year ago.

Baltimore Batsman Still Goes Hitless

BALTIMORE (AP)— Baltimore Orioles shortstop Willie Miranda's luck at the plate continued all bad last night as he went hitless in his tenth straight game.

Miranda, who is batting .218, hasn't had a hit since Aug. 4, when he went 1-4 against the White Sox.

Cubs and Realtors Battle To 3-3 Tie

The Sunshine Cubs and the Mac Dews Realtors battled to a 3-3 tie in six hard-fought innings of Little Major League baseball at Wilson Field Wednesday evening.

With two Realtors out the game was called in the midst of the last half of the sixth inning.

The Cubs started out in front and held their lead until late in the game when the Realtors started to click and got things all tied up.

Mac Dews, Cub manager, had to use a pitcher he had never used before this season—Paul Shaltry—to finish the game for him, because Little League rules prohibit using a pitcher two nights in a row, thus proscribing the use of the regular pitchers Dews was saving for tonight (Thursday).

Shaltry, performing in the emergency role, struck out the first two men he faced.

Though he trailed for most of the game, Ernie Herman pitched classy ball for the Realtors.

Rams Given Edge In Redskin Duel

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams have been installed as nine-point favorites to beat the Washington Redskins in Friday night's football game in Memorial Coliseum, but Joe Kuharich's squad is capable of repeating its 31-8 victory in the annual charity contest.

Kuharich will have the same sturdy defensive line that enabled the Redskins to close the National Football League season in 1955 with an 8-4 record, third best to Cleveland, with 9-2-1 and Los Angeles, with 8-3-1.

Girton's in Second After Good Hope Win

Girton's Frozen Food team pulled itself into second place in the Babe Ruth League last night with a 5-4, two hit victory over Good Hope at the City Park.

Jim Irons, Girton's classy pitcher, while holding the Good Hope boys to two hits, belted two himself. He walked five men.

Girton's big inning was the second when they brought home four runs. Their lead was threatened in the fourth when Good Hope's Eddie McConnaughey socked a ringing double to begin his team's late-innings rally.

Good Hope scored four in the last two innings, but the Frozen Foods nine made its one-run margin in the bottom of the fourth.

The Girton defense was sparkling, too. Double play combinations netted them three twin kills. The game ended after five innings.

Aaron Takes Aim At Batting Crown

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Hank Aaron, Milwaukee's 22-year-old right fielder, is making a determined bid for the National League bat crown.

"I've got as good a chance as anybody else," he said.

His closest competitor is Wally Moon of the St. Louis Cardinals with .327.

Scott Frost Favored in Illinois Trot

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Scott Frost, the season's No. 1 aged trotter, was favored today in a field of five at the Abe Lincoln Free-For-All Trot at the Illinois State Fair.

Egyptian Princess is favored among nine in the Castleton Farms Stake for 3-year-old trotting fillies.

The Anne Rutledge Free-For-All Pace has attracted six starters including Frisco Creed from the Hayes Fair Acres, Brightside Stables' Hundred Proof, Queen's Adios and Scotchlite.

Other attractions are the Greyhound 2-year-old Trot and Little Pat 2-year-old Pace.

Bold Rodney's victory in the Review Futurity 3-year-old Trot headlined yesterday's race card at the fair.

Rodney, who ran against many Hambletonian rivals, won in a third heat race of 2:03.3 after taking an earlier first heat in 2:01. Altogether, the Futurity race attracted 10 Hambletonian entrants.

Adioscot, from Decatur, Ga., rallied to win the Review 3-year-old Pace. Driver Delvin Miller drove Adioscot to victories in the second and third heats.

Good Counsel, the sensational Castleton racer, easily took the Breeder Filly Stakes for 2-year-old trotters and pacers. Starita, owned by C. W. Phellis of Greenwich, Conn., took the Filly Stake for 2-year-olds.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Two Charged After Wreck

3 Vehicles Involved In Wednesday Crash

Two men are facing charges filed by the police following a three-vehicle accident on Columbus Avenue in front of the Weckman Junk Yard, at 4:10 p. m. Wednesday.

It all came about when David W. Pettit, 18, Route 4, headed east on Columbus Avenue, slowed down or stopped to pull into the curb, and a truck struck the rear of the car he was driving. Then another automobile crashed into the rear of the truck.

The truck was driven by Leslie B. Cunigan, 32, of Columbus, and the car which struck the truck was driven by Elmo Reno, 36, of Kings Mills.

Reno and Cunningham were charged with failure to stop within assured clear distance. The truck driver said Pettit had stopped in the street.

None of the vehicles was badly damaged.

Suez Conference

elected chairman despite a Soviet suggestion that he step aside, retorted that all countries at the conference are vitally interested in the Suez issue.

The parley grew out of a nationalization decree by Egypt's President Nasser July 26.

The new Soviet foreign minister stated the Russian position less than an hour after British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden told delegates the occasion for the conference was "among the gravest any of us have had to face since the Second World War."

Shepilov complained that the West did not give the interested powers time to prepare sufficiently for the parley.

He emphasized again the Russian view that no internationally binding decisions can come out of the London conference.

Shepilov stated again that Russia believes 46 nations should have been invited — all the Arab states, the East European Communist states and Communist China along with Egypt.

Even as the conference began, Britain was still flying troops to the Middle East in a maneuver officially described as "precautionary."

Bakery equipment in Pennington's Cincinnati plant will be moved here as soon as the new structure is ready, and an $80,000 streamlined oven has been purchased for the local plant.

Interstate Bakeries Corp., with which the Pennington firm has a working arrangement and which has been producing Pennington products for distribution in the Cincinnati area, will assist with the engineering layout here and will help move machinery to Washington C. H.

AFTER the new plant is in operation, it will produce for the Dayton area and the Seaman distribution station, both formerly served by Pennington's Cincinnati plant, in addition to supplying consumers formerly served by the local bakery (including the growing Columbus sales area).

The increased production is expected to result in a payroll of approximately a million dollars a year here as compared with about $750,000 before the fire.

Pennington's No. 1 job since the disastrous blaze has been the continuance of service to customers under the most adverse conditions. Howard G. Wright, Pennington vice president and local manager, points out that 27 route trucks and a half dozen semi-trailers have been loaded here daily since the fire. The bread is being trucked in from Cincinnati for redistribution at the makeshift Clinton Ave. docks.

Two Charged After Wreck

3 Vehicles Involved In Wednesday Crash

Two men are facing charges filed by the police following a three-vehicle accident on Columbus Avenue in front of the Wackman Junk Yard, at 4:10 p. m. Wednesday.

It all came about when David W. Pettit, 18, Route 4, headed east on Columbus Avenue, slowed down or stopped to pull into the curb, and a truck struck the rear of the car he was driving. Then another automobile crashed into the rear of the truck.

The truck was driven by Leslie B. Cunigan, 32, of Columbus, and the car which struck the truck was driven by Elmo Reno, 36, of Kings Mills.

Reno and Cunningham were charged with failure to stop within assured clear distance. The truck driver said Pettit had stopped in the street.

None of the vehicles was badly damaged.

Suez Conference

elected chairman despite a Soviet suggestion that he step aside, retorted that all countries at the conference are vitally interested in the Suez issue.

The parley grew out of a nationalization decree by Egypt's President Nasser July 26.

The new Soviet foreign minister stated the Russian position less than an hour after British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden told delegates the occasion for the conference was "among the gravest any of us have had to face since the Second World War."

Shepilov complained that the West did not give the interested powers time to prepare sufficiently for the parley.

He emphasized again the Russian view that no internationally binding decisions can come out of the London conference.

Shepilov stated again that Russia believes 46 nations should have been invited — all the Arab states, the East European Communist states and Communist China along with Egypt.

Even as the conference began, Britain was still flying troops to the Middle East in a maneuver officially described as "precautionary."

of the present floo. in the bakery area probably can be used. Plans call for steel beam supports throughout the buliding.

Bakery equipment in Pennington's Cincinnati plant will be moved here as soon as the new structure is ready, and an $80,000 streamlined oven has been purchased for the local plant.

Interstate Bakeries Corp., with which the Pennington firm has a working arrangement and which has been producing Pennington products for distribution in the Cincinnati area, will assist with the engineering layout here and will help move machinery to Washington C. H.

AFTER the new plant is in operation, it will produce for the Dayton area and the Seaman distribution station, both formerly served by Pennington's Cincinnati plant, in addition to supplying consumers formerly served by the local bakery (including the growing Columbus sales area).

The increased production is expected to result in a payroll of approximately a million dollars a year here as compared with about $750,000 before the fire.

Pennington's No. 1 job since the disastrous blaze has been the continuance of service to customers under the most adverse conditions. Howard G. Wright, Pennington vice president and local manager, points out that 27 route trucks and a half dozen semi-trailers have been loaded here daily since the fire. The bread is being trucked in from Cincinnati for redistribution at the makeshift Clinton Ave. docks.
